INTERESTING FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of the Europa's Mails.

PROGRESS OF THE ITALIAN WAR.

Mr. Lindsay's Mission to the United States.

AMERICA AND THE SLAVE-TRADE.

The mails by the Europa, at Boston, reached this City last evening.

London papers are received to Saturday the 8th inst. They do not contain accounts of the flight of the King of Naples, or of the arrival of Garibaldi in the capital—intelligence received by telegraph, viâ Queenstown.

The following dispatch was published in the Moniteur:

Naples, Thursday, Sept. 6—Evening.

Garibaldi is at Eboli, near Salerno. The royal troops are being concentrated at Capua. The King will proceed thither, and afterwards to Gaeta. Naples is tranquil at the present moment. The authorities, constituted by the King remain en fonctions.

The Paris correspondent of the London News says:

"I hear that the Council of State of Geneva, on the requisition of the Federal Council, have addressed to M. Thouvenel a detailed report of the unfortunate disturbance of Aug. 31, and that they throw the responsibility upon M. Harbno, the Mayor of Gex, on account of his having brought a body of from 500 to 800 Frenchmen across the Swiss territory, without giving any notice to the Federal Government."

The Nord adds to its former accounts of the results of the Töplitz interview. It says that Prussia pledged herself not to recognize the annexation already made of Tuscany, Parma and Modena to Sardinia, without previous concert with Austria, and that if Naples should also be annexed to Sardinia, Prussia also pledged not to recognize the annexation.

A telegraphic dispatch, in the Hamburger Nachrichten, dated Coburgh, 4th instant, says:

"The general meeting of the National Union have unanimously adopted, as their programme of union, the transfer of the central power to Prussia, and the convocation of a German Parliament."

The news given by the Constitutionnel, on the strength of its own correspondence from Cologne, that the French expedition in Syria will soon be reinforced by contingents from Prussia and Russia, that the Prussian troops, 6,000 in number, are to go by rail to Trieste, where they will be embarked in vessels chartered for the purpose, and that the Russian troops are to sail from Odessa and Beyrout on board vessels of their own nation, is contradicted by the Pays and Patrie, which treat it as a false rumor, circulated by "several foreign journals." The Patrie adds that the two Powers in question are altogether in accord with France as to the course to be taken in Syria, and that the force already sent by France is abundantly sufficient for the fulfillment of the "civilizing mission which France has taken upon herself, with the sympathetic assent of Europe."

A supplement to the Impartial, of Smyrna, of the 29th August, publishes an account of a terrible conflagration which has taken place in that city. No less than 700 houses have fallen a prey to the flames.

The Liverpool Times says:

"In the near counties harvest operations are nearly completed, the yield and quality exceeding expectations. The accounts from more distant parts are equally encouraging, and consequently the corn trade continues very dull, with retrograding prices."

The papers report a failure in London in the linen trade—Smith, Sinclair & Co. Their liabilities are estimated at £140,000 or £150,000. They were sellers of linen goods for manufacturers at Dundee, and large buyers of jute in the London markets for the same establishments. The house is of very recent standing; and in banking quarters there is some apprehensions, from the character of the paper afloat, not only that the liquidation may prove unfavorable, but that a number of smaller and subordinate firms both in London and Dundee will be compelled also to suspend. Stagnation of business and pressure in the money market are assigned by the firm as the cause of the failure.

Progress of the Italian War.

THE STATE OF NAPLES.

Correspondence of the London Times.

Naples, Thursday, Aug. 30.

There was a powerful show of force on the night of the 28th, which was occasioned by an apprehension of a Mazzinian movement, as also a reported scene between the King and his brother, the Count of Trani, who urged his Majesty to adopt stronger measures for the defence of his crown and dynasty. I believe he had such an influence as to induce the King to resolve on heading his army when the critical moment arrived. Had he done so at first he might have saved himself; but everything is done troppo tardi. The line of defence, which has been finally fixed upon, is from Salerno extending to Avellino, Monteforte, Capua and Gaeta, being an irregular arc of perhaps ninety miles. To defend this there are 6,000 foreign troops between Salerno and Avellino, and 20,000 in the capital, Caserta, and other parts of Terri di Lavoro. Such a force would be most inefficient, even if it could be depended on, but when, as it is well known, cowardice and treachery pervade its ranks, defence becomes almost impossible. On the night of the 29th two Captains of the Second Chasseurs, who were on duty in St. Elmo, Gennaro de Marco and Raffaele Favalli, were arrested, and sent, the one to Castel del Carmine, and the other to Castel d'Uovo. In the latter place 180 officers and petty officers were under arrest, representing a considerable nucleus of disaffection. De Marco and Favalli were accused of talking freely, and of saying that they would not assist in the bombardment of the city. Of course, Austria is the prime mover of everything in the south of Italy, and the people are pretty clear of a good understanding between her and Rome and Naples. The communications between the two latter places are frequent and close, and I shall not be surprised at a union of the forces of the two countries on the approach of Garibaldi. When the King takes the field her Majesty will leave Naples for Gaeta. As for the Queen Mother, I am tired of reporting her departure. She seems resolved on being present at the last funereal rites of the Bourbons.

Friday, Aug. 31, 1860.

There has been great excitement throughout the day, though up to a late hour at night no answer had been returned by the King to the resignation of the Ministers. The delay is not occasioned by any hesitation on the part of his Majesty, but by the difficulty of forming a new Ministry. The Ministry remained in council the whole day, and there was a very animated scene between them and Gen. Catrofiano, the former calling him to account for conduct which tended to the ruin of the King, and was treasonable; and the latter retorting the charge, and adding that he, as commander of the city, was the supreme judge of what was best to be done. Later in the day the majors of the National Guard came as a deputation to the Ministry, when Catrofiano was present. Some very strong things were said, and Maj. Ferranti especially spoke in a fearless and dignified manner on the present crisis. Indeed, one or two of the commanders of the National Guard declared that, unless Prince Ischitella was removed from being their commander, and Gen. Catrofiano from the command of the Piazza, they would go down and order barricades to be thrown up against the reactionary troops. The offer of protection to the Ministers does not appear to have been unnecessary, for on the night of the 30th-31st several of the Ministers slept on board the Admiral's vessel. The demands which have been made as the conditions of their remaining in power are the dismissals above-mentioned, which the King is not disposed to grant.

The conspiracy seems to have been discovered just in time, and rumors are afloat of much money, and that French money, having been distributed here. I am unwilling to state as a fact what may be only an unfounded report, but it is circulated very widely. Certain it is that there is a policy which depends for its success upon creating embarrassment and disorder. The whole of the National Guard has been under arms during the day, and remains so during the night. A bulletin of the Central Committee just issued, runs thus:

"Another disgraceful attempt is threatened by the Reaction; it aims at sending our fleet to the Austrian ports, and thus to deprive the country of its naval force, to place the Neapolitan flag under the command of Austria, to detach from their families and condemn to exile the brave officers of our navy. Sufficient to denounce these facts to the public conscience! To resist these orders is not only a right but a duty. Naples, Aug. 31."

General Bosco came up to Naples from Salerno last night and complained much of insults which he received from the population of every place through which he passed. He is of opinion that the Neapolitan troops will lay down their arms after firing one or two shots, and that in the city even less resistance may be expected. This may be the case, but every kind of preparation is being made, in and out of the houses, for making head against a reactionary attempt. Meanwhile everyone is sighing for the appearance of Garibaldi, if only to put an end to this state of uncertainty and to restore order.

Sept. 1.—A dispatch has just arrived from the Intendente of Salerno, which announces a revolution in the district of Sala. Three thousand men, directed by Garibaldians and commanded by a Colonel formerly in the Neapolitan service, have proclaimed a Provisional Government in the name of Victor Emanuel; Garibaldi, Dictator; Giovanni Matissa, Pro-Dictator.

Naples, Thursday, Sept. 6.

It is said that Garibaldi arrived at Salerno this morning, and he is expected at Naples immediately.

It is said that the King will leave here to-day for Gaeta.

Mr. E. James, M. P., Hon. Mr. Ashley, M. P., and other Englishmen, are gone on board a Sardinian vessel to pay a visit to Garibaldi at Salerno.

The city of Naples is perfectly tranquil, and the people conduct themselves in a dignified manner.

INTERVENTION OF SARDINIA.

Correspondence of the Journal des Débats.

Turin, Monday, Sept. 3.

There was a report this morning that the Piedmontese troops had received orders to cross the Roman frontier, but on inquiry I ascertained that it was unfounded, and the real facts as to the troops are as follows: A corps under Gen. Cialdini is concentrated between Rimmi and La Cattolica, as already stated. Another corps under Gen. Durando is to have its head-quarters at Piacenza. On the other hand, it is known that Gen. de Lamoricière has concentrated troops at Macerata, and so Gen. Cialdini has been ordered to be guided by circumstances—an expression somewhat elastic. I have already informed you of the agitation prevailing in the Marches and Umbria. This morning three ministerial journals, the Opinione, the Gazetta del Popolo, of Turin, and the Perseveranza of Milan, all publish leaders on an order of the day, said to have been issued by Gen. de Lamoricière, in which he threatens with pillage every town that may revolt. I cannot believe in the existence of an order of the day so contrary to the French character; but the above journals take advantage of the occasion to say, that the Piedmontese Government cannot leave without protection Italian populations exposed to the assault of a foreign force. It is also positively stated that Count Cavour has given Cardinal Antonelli to understand that any movement of the Pontifical troops beyond the frontiers of the Roman States, would be considered an act of intervention, and that Piedmont would, in such a case, think itself justified in occupying the Marches. Military preparations are continued with great activity. We every day see regiments of infantry going to the arsenal to change their old muskets for arms of precision, and then go off by rail. This morning it was the turn of the Twenty-third Regiment. Independently of the affairs of Naples and Rome, the Government is not without uneasiness as to the attitude of Austria. The troops of this Power have not yet made any movement, but such immense quantities of war stores of all kinds are being collected at Mantau and Verona, far beyond what can be necessary for the defence of those places, that there is good ground for taking precautions.

THE FRENCH TROOPS IN ROME.

Gen. Count de Noue, on taking the command of the French troops at Rome, published the following order of the day, dated Aug. 29:

A ministerial decision appoints me commander of the French force at Rome. The troops have long known me, and are aware how much I do justice to their exact discipline, devotedness and excellent spirit. Certain of the loyal and sympathetic coöperation of their chiefs as of the confidence of all, I cannot do otherwise than feel pride at having to continue the command which was left me in such good condition by Gen. Count de Goyon, to whom we offer a unanimous tribute of regret. At present, as hitherto, our duties are the same. Indifferent to the sentiments which may agitate the Roman population, we have only one wish—that of assuring them tranquillity and not suffering disorder under any pretext or form. We shall thus give the strongest and firmest support to the Holy Father, and attain the sole object we all desire—to fulfill the intentions of the Emperor, and to merit his approbation. COUNT DE NOUE.

The United States and the Slave-Trade.

From the London Post, Sept. 7.

By the last American mail we have the reply of the President of the United States to the proposal submitted by Lord John Russell for putting an end to the Slave-trade, and we regret to learn that they do not, upon the whole, appear to meet the views of the American Government. Our readers will recollect that the Foreign Minister has expressed an opinion to the effect that three things must be done before this traffic can be suppressed. The first is to establish a more efficient system of cruising off the coasts of Cuba; the second is to establish a complete system of registration in that island, in accordance with the suggestion of the Spanish Government itself; and the third is to promote, under proper regulations, the emigration of Chinese Coolies to the West Indies and to America. President Buchanan does not appear to look with a favorable eye upon any one of these measures. With regard to the first, it is a curious coincidence that the President expresses an opinion which is almost identical with that now entertained by the Anti-Slavery Society, and to which we took occasion to refer the other day. "Whenever," he says, "Her Britannic Majesty's Government shall think it proper, in its discretion, to enforce the provisions of the treaty with Spain, referred to by Lord John Russell, by which the Spanish Crown undertook to abolish the Slave-trade, and accepted of a sum of £400,000 to enable it the more easily to do so, then, and not till then, in the President's opinion, will the African trade with the Island of Cuba be abolished. But with this," he adds, "the Government of the United States has no right to interfere."

Then, with respect to a systematic plan of cruising in the Cuban waters, he reminds our Foreign Minister that that could not be adopted without the sanction of the Spanish Government; and, considering that the latter have recently remonstrated in the strongest terms respecting the alleged seizure by United States cruisers of Spanish vessels off the Cuban coast, he thinks the chances of the Cabinet of Madrid agreeing to any such proposal are very faint indeed. Independent, however, of this consideration, President Buchanan states that, even if Spain were willing to accede to the proposed arrangement, America must decline to do so, as such interference in the affairs of foreign countries would be an infringement of the established policy of the United States. At the same time we are assured that the means at present adopted for the suppression of the traffic will be continued, and that American vessels and American citizens found engaged in it will be dealt with according to law. With regard to the establishment of a system of registration in Cuba, President Buchanan thinks that it would, at the present time, be a hopeless experiment; and unless the Spanish Government were really in earnest in the matter, we entirely agree with him. "If," he observes, "joint-stock companies are established at Havana, for the purpose of prosecuting the African Slave-trade under the eye of the highest officials of the island, and with perfect impunity, it would be vain to expect the registrars throughout the country would counteract the policy of their superiors by faithfully performing their duty."

But the most remarkable passage in the President's dispatch relates to the Coolie-trade. With regard to it he dissents entirely from the opinion expressed by Lord John Russell. Instead of regarding this species of emigration as the means, under proper regulations, of finally extinguishing the Slave-trade, President Buchanan seems to consider it in some points of view as still more objectionable than even that traffic. He expresses grave doubts, in the first place, as to the possibility of preventing those abuses to which it has undoubtedly given rise, and which, he says, are hardly less horrible than those that are perpetrated in the middle passage; and he strongly objects, in the second place, to the importation of this class of laborers into the United States under any circumstances whatever. He says that in the southern portion of the Union they would demoralize the slaves, and that in the Northern States they would compete unfairly in the labor market with the free citizens. He is opposed to the Coolie-trade, therefore, alike from motives of interest and humanity.

We are much surprised, we confess, that such views should be thus formally put forward by the American Government. It is, no doubt, true that the Coolie trade has been attended with great abuses, but it is no less true that the means taken for their suppression have latterly proved eminently successful. Under the regulations which are now enforced at Canton, shiploads of Coolies with their wives and children have been carried to the West Indies without a single death having occurred on board. Can President Buchanan be ignorant of this important fact? Is he not aware that the English and French Governments have both entered into arrangements of the most stringent kind with the Chinese authorities for the prevention of the abuses which he assumes must, under any circumstances, continue to be perpetrated? As to the result of these arrangements, it may be premature as yet to form a definite opinion; but that they have hitherto proved successful even beyond the anticipation of their promoters is a fact of the highest importance. This question of Chinese emigration is one upon which the statesmen both of England and France are perfectly agreed. If it succeeds it must destroy the Slave-trade. It is surely, then, an experiment worth the trying; and we cannot help adding that the attempt of the American Government to throw cold water on the efforts that are now being made to place the Coolie emigration trade on a really sound footing is extremely ungracious, to say the least of it. There is no reason, because they do not want coolie labor themselves, that they should look with jealousy at the efforts of their neighbors, who are seeking by fair and open means to obtain it, and who, in spite of the doubts of President Buchanan, are likely to succeed. We regret to be obliged to add that the President's strictures upon the Coolie trade have a significance, at the present time which it is impossible to overlook. We learn from the American papers that slave cargoes have recently been landed at Charleston and at Mobile. The traffic has, indeed, been going on all Summer to some extent, and year it is confidently anticipated that a large increase will take place. Add to this the reappearance of General Walker in Central America, which the slave owners of the South have long regarded as their inheritance, and the approach of the Presidential election, in which we fear the revival of the Slave-trade will form a prominent topic of discussion. It is easy to perceive why the slave-owners of the South should object to the importation of free Chinamen. It is easy to perceive why they should prefer the unhappy African. But, unsatisfactory though President Buchanan's dispatch is, we trust and believe the American Government will never again sanction the traffic in human beings, which more than forty years ago it declared to be piracy.

The Objects of Mr. Lindsay's Mission to the United States.

From the London Shipping Gazette, Sept. 7.

To-morrow Mr. W. S. Lindsay sails from Liverpool for the United States on the mission which, a fortnight since, we were enabled to announce as definitely resolved upon. Since that announcement appeared in our columns, our cotemporaries, of all shades of politics, have deemed it necessary to refer to it in the language of doubt or disparagement, but none of them have ventured to deny its truth. We have now only to say that our statement respecting the character of Mr. Lindsay's mission was correct in every particular. He goes to Washington at the instance of Her Majesty's Government. He is furnished by the Government with documents which place him in possession of all that has been hitherto done by the Foreign-office in the way of correspondence or negotiation with the American Government; and Lord Lyons has received express instructions to afford Mr. Lindsay every possible facility in placing his views fairly before the Cabinet of Washington. In short, Mr. Lindsay, except that he does not hold the Queen's Commission as Special Envoy, possesses all the authority as a negotiator on maritime affairs, with which it is possible for the advisers of the Crown to invest him, while the mission on which he is about to proceed is one of paramount importance to the carrying trade of this country. It will be seen, therefore, that while there is no intention to supersede Lord Lyons, or in any way to interfere with the diplomatic functions of our Minister at Washington, it has been considered advisable by our Government, seeing that adequate information on the subject of our maritime relations with the United States has not been hitherto effectually conveyed through the ordinary channels of diplomacy, to select some person whose practical acquaintance with maritime commerce would make him a successful interpreter of their views as well as of those of the United States Government, and the choice of the Government, no doubt directed by the events of the past session, has rested upon Mr. Lindsay. It is not the first time in the history of the commercial relations of this country with foreign States that persons possessing the confidence and acting with the authority of the British Government, have been employed for the purpose of adjusting commercial questions which proved to be beyond the sphere or the powers of diplomacy to adjust. Towards the close of the last century, Mr. Eden was employed by Mr. Pitt on a mission which proved unsuccessful only because the time was unpropitious. Our reciprocity treaties with Prussia, with France, with Denmark, and with the Hanse Towns, bear the signature of William Huskisson. The Maine boundary question, which defied all the efforts of diplomacy, and threatened for a long time to involve us in hostilities with the United States, was at length settled by Alexander Baring, a successful merchant' specially accredited to Washington for the purpose, and settled with an ease and rapidity which astonished the diplomatic world. A commercial treaty has been recently concluded with France, the effect of which time must reveal. The negotiation was intrusted to Mr. Cobden, because our Government well knew that it involved details, with which the able Minister who represents this country in Paris had but a slender acquaintance. Primâ facie, therefore, the selection of Mr. Lindsay as the negotiator of a question involving commercial details is agreeable to precedent, and entirely justifiable on the part of the Government, and ought to be successful. It seems to be in accordance with the simple rule of common sense, by which a man's fitness for a certain work determines his selection. It is no reflection upon the ability or discretion of Lord Lyons that he is not as intimately acquainted with the details of the maritime relations of this country with the United States, as a man who has been for years directly interested in the British Carrying Trade, and who has made the subject of Maritime Commerce in all its bearings his peculiar study; nor can we conceive it any degradation to Lord Lyons that he has been instructed to confer with Mr. Lindsay, and to become the official medium of laying that gentleman's views, and the result of his practical experience, fully before the American Government. And whatever may be thought of the great results of diplomatic action on international affairs, there is more done by the private and unofficial intercourse of a few authorised individuals, acting on the part of their respective Governments, than the world at large would believe. Some of the most important arrangements between Governments have been settled in the most unpretending fashion, and the consent of the Government and the exchange of ratifications nothing more than the fiat upon a foregone conclusion. And this is more especially true of Commercial Treaties.

Mr. Lindsay goes to Washington for the purpose of taking the opinion of the American Government on certain proposals which the British Government desire to make, in order to place the Maritime relations of the two countries on a more just and satisfactory footing. It will be his duty to point out the injustice inflicted on the British Shipowner by the refusal of the United States to open their Coasting Trade to British Shipping, seeing that every branch of the British Carrying Trade, direct, indirect, Coasting, and Colonial, is open to American Shipping. He can show that a persistence in such a policy is opposed to the extension of American Commerce, and could not, if abandoned, inflict any injury on the American Mercantile Marine; on the contrary, that the increased carrying which would speedily result would be more than an equivalent for the fall in freights which would probably attend the opening of the trade. He may urge, that the spirit of liberality which distinguishes the Commercial legislation of this country is discernible in the recommendations of the recent Parliamentary Committee, which, if adopted—as they undoubtedly will be—will relieve American shipping frequenting these ports to the extent of £70,000 per annum paid in Light Dues. In discussing the great international question of belligerent rights at sea, Mr. Lindsay may point to the advance made by the States who are parties to the Declaration of Paris, and to the impossibility of England maintaining the position in which she is placed by that declaration, except a respect for private property at sea in war time is made the rule amongst maritime States. This must be, or England must revert to her ancient maritime rights. The necessity which exists for a uniform law in respect to collisions between American and British ships, whether in British or American waters, or on the high seas, has long been admitted, and demands the earnest attention of those who desire to see maritime relations of the two countries placed on a settled and satisfactory footing. There are others matters, such as the extradition of those charged with atrocities on board ship, which should also find a place in the approaching deliberations. These questions, it will be admitted, for their successful treatment, demand severally a practical acquaintance with the working of the evils they involve. Mr. Lindsay has an arduous but an honorable task to perform, and if he proves himself equal to it, and succeeds in his mission, he will deserve to rank with those who have conferred a lasting service on their country. It will be no discredit to him across the Atlantic that he is a "self-raised and self-educated man." The sneer will not count for much, we may rest assured, in the United States. We have only to congratulate the shipping interest at large that a practical man has been selected to deal with questions which so deeply concern them, and to wish him every success which his mission, directed as it is to the attainment of so important an object, deserves. We may, perhaps, regret that Mr. Lindsay's departure on the mission he has undertaken should provoke hostile criticism in any direction, because it seems to us to be well conceived and directed to an honest purpose; but, having said thus much, we are content to abide the issue.

Naval Intelligence.

The United States vessel Crawford arrived at this port from Holmes Hole at 9 o'clock on Thursday evening, and came up to the Brooklyn Navy-yard yesterday morning. She has been engaged in connection with the United States Coast Survey at Damariscotta, on the coast of Maine. Her officers are: Lieut. Bankhead, A. Corkey, R. J. Foley, H. B. Dusenberry, and J. G. McCauley. The Crawford awaits orders from the authorities at Washington.

The corvette Preble, recently of the Home squadron, that arrived at Philadelphia, as announced yesterday by telegraph, will be put out of commission and turned over to Commodore Stewart. She has served her full time in commission. The marines will be transferred to the barracks and the crew discharged.

Some medium size guns were yesterday shipped from the Brooklyn Navy-yard for Pensacola, for the Fulton.

We learn that several young men are endeavoring to obtain admission to the Navy, with a view to proceed in the Richmond to the Mediterranean, and enlist under Garibaldi. The fact that outside recruiting is stopped interferes sadly with their plans. It is said that over a dozen such enthusiasts got on board the Susquehanna surreptitiously, supposing her bound for the Straits; but the subsequent change of that vessel's destination frustrated their patriotic determination, and they are probably by this time at Vera Cruz.

Additional advices from the steam-frigate Niagara en route to Japan are over-due.

To-day being pay-day, $16,000 will be distributed to the mechanics and laborers at the Brooklyn yard. There are 800 men employed there at present, and the monthly disbursements average $32,000. Business, generally, is dull. The Roanoke has been housed; the Wabash is still in dock, and will remain there for some months. The Perry is stripped at the wharf, and the Brandywine, Vandalia, Potomac and North Carolina occupy their old positions in the stream. The marine barracks has over 50 rank and file garrisoning it, who will soon be posted in their new home on Flushing-avenue. Capt. Brevoort commands them. The Ordnance Department is chiefly occupied in putting the Cumberland's battery in proper condition, the transfer of a few of that ship's guns to the Pawnee having necessitated it. The crew of the North Carolina is small just now; but recruits are gradually going on board. Com. Breese is still absent, and Capt. Foote commands. The sailing vessels will soon be "mustered in front" to stand examination by the Naval Board.

We observe that the New-York built frigate, General Admiral, has called forth the admiration of several naval authorities at Malta, where she was anchored at last European advices.

THE PRINCE IN THE UNITED STATES

FINAL DEPARTURE FROM CANADA.

Transformation of the Prince into Baron Renfrew.

ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION AT DETROIT.

Address of the Mayor and Illumination of the City.

Incidents of the Journey from Detroit to Chicago.

PROGRAMME OF THE AMERICAN TOUR.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE NEW-YORK BALL.

Special Dispatch from Our Own Correspondent.

Detroit, Thursday, Sept. 20.

The Prince broke up the ball at Hamilton at 4½ o'clock this morning. He presented to Mr. Sanderson, the chief steward, an elegant gold hunting-cased watch, with chain and seal, surmounted by his crest, and gave to Dr. Kerwin, the master of the horse, a similar one. To other temporary members of his household he gave studs, sleeve and vest buttons, and other slight tokens of his estimation of their services. At 10 o'clock the entire population of Hamilton congregated at the cars to bid him farewell. A special train of four cars had been provided, one for the Prince, one for the Marquis of Chandos and his family, one for the Directors, and the other for the Press. Shortly after 10 o'clock, amidst salutes, cheers and huzzas, he bade "Good bye" to his last Canadian resting place. The train made but few stoppages, though at every station there were crowds of people who waved flags, played the national anthem, and cheered the Prince.

At Newberry there was a small gathering of Orangemen, and as the train slackened an impudent Irishman waved an Orange flag almost in the Prince's face, and was much astonished, when, amid roars of laughter, Conductor Patching snatched the flag from him, and was soon lost to view. The flag has the usual Orange inscriptions on it, and was given to the correspondent of the Times. At Chatham there were hosts of colored people, who enthusiastically cheered the Prince, and who participated in the welcome tendered by the firemen, who formed a torchlight procession and exhibited fireworks. The trip was made in quick time, and was a very pleasant one, the only incident which marred its entire quiet being the feeling occasioned by the intrusion upon the director's car of the reporter of an English journal and his confrère from an eminently philanthropic New-York paper.

From Windsor to Detroit the Royal party came in a steam ferry-boat, on which were the Mayor and Council of Detroit. After all had gathered near the Prince in the cabin, the Mayor addressed him as follows, on behalf of the City of Detroit.

"I bid you welcome to these shores. I trust your stay here and your visit throughout the United States will be interesting, agreeable and instructive to yourself, as it certainly will be gratifying to us."

The Mayor then gave the names of the Aldermen to Lord Lyons, who presented them to Baron Renfrew. The Baron expressed a desire to look at the city, and passed out upon the deck, where a magnificent sight presented itself. The city was brilliantly illuminated. The shipping were rigged with variegated lamps, and steamboats plying up and down were letting off rockets. From the dock there stretched far away two lines of torchlights, which lit up the faces of a countless multitude of people. When the boat was made fast, a scene of the wildest confusion ensued. Such struggling, pushing, fighting and yelling was never heard, and it was a long time before order was at all restored. In the meantime the Royal party stood upon the deck amazed and astounded at the unaccustomed sight. The Baron was delighted at the evidence of hearty welcome, while the Duke of Newcastle and Gen. Williams agreed that they had never seen such a gathering or heard such cheering before. The Baron's carriage was finally driven off through a side street, followed by the crowd who were thoroughly excited and enthusiastic to the last degree.

A procession had been arranged under the direction of Lieut. John Robertson as Marshal, of which the following was the order:

1. Marshal and Aids.
2. Band.
3. The Fire Department, marching two abreast, and in the form of a letter U, the open part in the rear, each fireman bearing a lighted torch; and within the lines the distinguished visitors and their escort, as follows:
4. Detroit Light Guard.
5. Mayor and Common Council of Detroit in carriages.
6. Mayor and Common Council of Windsor in carriages.
7. The Prince of Wales in an open carriage, drawn by four horses.
8. The Prince's suite in carriages.
9. The Committee of fifty distinguished citizens in carriages.
10. The Band.
11. The Scott Guard Battalion.

Of course, under the circumstances, this arrangement could not be carried out in full, though the Prince's suite were escorted to the hotel by the firemen.

The apartments furnished for his reception at the Russell House are truly regal. Four rooms furnished in green bronze, yellow and blue, have been prepared for the Baron at great expense, and are the handsomest he has yet occupied. The colored people at Windsor are highly indignant that the Prince would not listen to their address.

The Michigan Central offered a special fast train for the accommodation of the party, but the Duke will hear nothing of fast trains, so they will go on to-morrow paying at the rate of five cents a mile for each passenger. They leave here at 10 o'clock, reaching Chicago at 8 o'clock on Saturday. He goes to Kankakee, thence to Dwight's station, about thirty miles out on the prairie, where he will shoot a while, spending Sunday at the residence of Mr. Morgan. On Monday he will start for St. Louis.

General Bruce informed us last evening that the Royal party were much pleased with the enterprise manifested by the proprietors of the Times and Herald, and gratified at the tone and general accuracy of their reports, and hoped we would believe none of the assertions to the contrary, which are being circulated, but take his words for the above. The Canadian officials can now go home. They have, in an ostentatious and selfish manner entertained the Prince, glorified themselves, and insulted the members of the Press, and they go home with the assurance that no one more thoroughly understands their motives, or sees through their selfishness, than the Duke of Newcastle, in whose good graces they have so earnestly strived to stand. HOWARD.

FROM DETROIT TO CHICAGO.

INCIDENTS BY THE WAY—TROUBLE WITH THE REPORTERS—THE ARRIVAL AND RECEPTION AT CHICAGO.

Chicago, Friday, Sept. 21.

The first public act performed by the Prince, this morning, was a drive through the streets of Detroit, accompanied by scores of vehicles, and followed by hundreds of men, women and children. At ten the royal train was to leave for Chicago. Long before that hour the streets leading to the dépôt were thronged with people, and when the Prince's carriage appeared it was with the greatest difficulty that it could be drawn to the platform. The wildest scene of excitement, curiosity and enthusiasm, was presented to the view, and many a comical incident occurred while the eager citizens were bidding farewell to the illustrious stranger.

The rear car contained the Prince and his suite, the next his servants, the next the family of the Marquis of Chandos, and the next the correspondents of the Times and Herald, who had, by special permission of Gen. Bruce, obtained an extra car. After we had got under way, the reporters of the Tribune and London Times were discovered in the servants' car. Superintendent Rice ordered them out of it, and was about proceeding to further extremities, when they took refuge in the private car of the Marquis of Chandos, saying that they should remain until put off. The Superintendent told the Marquis that they should be ejected if he wished it, but rather than have a row on the car they were allowed to remain. The reporters and artists of the other papers having been refused admittance, acquiesced in the most gentlemanly way and came through in the regular train. As a result of this action, the Royal party have decided that to save themselves from the intrusion of uninvited persons, they must hereafter refuse the representatives of those papers whose reports they so highly esteem.

The company had provided a superb car for the accommodation of the Prince, and all parties agree that it is the most elegant and complete carriage they have ever seen. Amongst other provisions, in case of accident, there was a pocket case of telegraphic instruments which could be attached to the wire at any point. This was examined with great interest by the Prince, who had never seen anything like it before.

At every point crowds of people lined the road. At Kalamazoo, Ann Arbor and Marshall, there were immense gatherings, salutes, music and excitement. The Prince, who was very much fatigued, spent the greater part of the day on the bed in his sleeping apartment, and would, in no instance, gratify the curiosity of the crowd. They climbed up to and looked in the window, and called out, "Bring him up," "Let's see him," and so forth. Presents of honey, fruit, and in one instance bread, were made and accepted, save in the last case, when the steward by direction paid for it.

Great dissatisfaction was felt and expressed at the Prince's seclusion, and remarks by no means complimentary were passed upon English snobbery. At several points people attempted to force themselves as passengers upon the train, but were invariably put roughly off. The trip was a long, tiresome, tedious affair, and we were all glad when the lights of illuminated Chicago burst suddenly upon our sight.

The scene from a distance was very fine, and the illumination was exceedingly brilliant. Arrived at the spacious dépôt we found a throng inside numbered by thousands, while outside the rush was fairly awful. The police kept admirable order and the party were enabled to walk slowly through a large open space, giving all present a fine view of the Prince. In reply to the oft-repeated cheers, the Prince gracefully raised his white beaver and returned the salutations of the multitude from side to side. The Duke remarked that the scene was the most imposing he had yet witnessed, and they were all highly gratified at the enthusiastic but orderly welcome.

The British Consul, who has been in agonies of expectancy for a week, met the Prince at the dépôt, escorted him to the carriage, and left him at the Hotel, immediately after which they partook of a good substantial dinner, and at ten o'clock were in bed and asleep, like any other tired and worn-out travelers.

To-morrow the Mayor will present informally a few prominent citizens, and then they will take a drive through the City, preparatory to their trip to St. Louis viâ a hunt after prairie chickens, and a Sunday on the Plains.

The Wide-Awakes paraded to-night in grand style, preparatory to a serenade to Gov. Banks; after which, they marched by the Prince's quarters, though he was fast asleep, and probably less "wide awake" than any other person in the City. HOWARD.

THE PRINCE'S BALL IN NEW-YORK.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE EVENT—FLORAL DECORATIONS OF THE ACADEMY—THE TICKETS.

The Citizens' Committee, who have undertaken the arduous task of preparation for the grand ball in honor of the Prince of Wales, are very busily engaged. The arrangements are still incomplete, and the programme is carefully reserved from publicity. Sufficient information, however, has transpired to warrant the assumption that the ball will be the most elegant affair of the kind that has taken place in this City for many years. The members of the Committee are bestowing a large share of their personal attention upon the management of details, and the office of the Secretary is daily thronged by parties who come laden with new suggestions. The occasion being an extraordinary one, the degree of enthusiasm which it calls forth is correspondingly great.

The Academy of Music has been leased by the Committee for two days; the terms of the agreement with the Opera management relinquishing the entire building to the purposes of the Ball from noon of Thursday, Oct. 11, to noon of Saturday, Oct. 13. The Ball will take place on the evening of Friday, Oct. 12. During the 24 hours included between Thursday noon and Friday, the decorations of the building will be adjusted. The Committee remain undecided as to the exact character of the embellishments, nor can they reach a definite understanding until Wednesday next, when a final meeting will be held to decide this question. Certain general arrangements, however, have been agreed upon; the principal feature being the choice of a prodigious abundance of floral adornment. This will be the grand feature of the decorations. Flowers are to adorn every gallery, deck every box, hang in festoons along the passage-ways, conceal the infirmities of antique caryatides, and crown the glories of the illuminated stage. Nor are these to be common flowers, such ordinary plants as grow in door-yards, but the rarest and most fragrant of exotics, such as connoisseur horticulturists cherish like the apple of the eye. Much of the heavy outlay of the occasion will go in the direction of this floral embellishment. All the stairways and lobbies of the building are to be carpeted. Gas-fitters have engaged to transform the whole interior of the Academy into a palace of light, so that there shall be no dark corner, nor even a shady one; or, as a member of the Committee expressed it, the light will be as abundant "as room can be found for it in the building." In other particulars, the Committee are quite unanimously of opinion that the decorations should be of the simplest kind, in order to contrast with the florid ornamentation of the house. The dancing-floor will be constructed as usual, by covering in the parquet, bringing it on a level with the stage. Of course, the Prince-of-Wales feather is to gleam in lines of brilliant gas light at a central point, midway of the stage.

The accommodations in the supper-room will be of the most generous character. The Committee are building a long and spacious hall, expressly for this purpose, between the Academy and the Medical College. The entrance lies through a passage on the Fourteenth-street side, leading only from the Academy. The dimensions of this department will be 140 feet in depth by 28 feet in width. The same style of floral decorations and brilliant lighting which mark the fitting up of the Academy, will be introduced in the supper-room. In addition, the Trustees of the University Medical College, (which building adjoins the Academy on Fourteenth-street) have offered to the Committee the free use of the basements and kitchens of that establishment. This privilege will probably be availed of in the preparation of the table.

A strong pressure is daily brought to bear upon the Committee in respect to the tickets of admission. Collectively and individually, the members of the Committee are compelled to resist urgent entreaties. The regulations are so imperative, and their enforcement so strict, that the effort to obtain admissions is worse than idle. Each member has seven tickets, and none but those to whom he awards them can hope for admission; while, in addition to this restriction, the name of each invited person must be passed upon separately. The entire number of tickets, as has been previously stated, is limited to three thousand. Of this number, twenty-eight hundred are in the hands of members of the Committee. The remaining two hundred are to be distributed among civic dignitaries, military and naval officers, distinguished public men and the Press. But a single ticket will be awarded to each of the leading papers. Among the invited guests are President Buchanan and Miss Lane, the members of the Cabinet and their ladies, a few Senators, and the officers of the British fleet who are now awaiting the arrival of the Prince on the Halifax station. Over one hundred of the complimentary tickets will be required for these personages and the Prince's suite.

A silly report has gained credence, to the effect that Miss Harriet Lane, the President's niece, had been specially invited to open the ball with the Prince. The Committee deny the truth of this rumor in the most positive terms. No such invitation has been extended, nor will it be. The fortunate lady who is to be the recipient of the Prince's earliest attention is not yet designated. Perhaps His Highness will be permitted to exercise the common privilege of a personal selection.

In every way, so far as the arrangements already concluded are to be regarded as an indication, the event promises to be a magnificent one. The Committee are certainly omitting nothing which can add to the elegance of the entertainment.

Disastrous Conflagration at Fort Smith.

LOSS ESTIMATED AT $200,000.

Fort Smith, Ark., Thursday, Sept. 20.

This morning, at about 4 o'clock, a fire broke out in this place, which resulted in the destruction of the City Hotel and the garrison block of buildings.

The value of the buildings which were destroyed was about $100,000, and the following additional losses were sustained on merchandise, furniture, &c.:

Sutton & Spring, dealers in dry goods, groceries, &c.; loss $35,000; no insurance.

Walter & Bourne, dry goods, $15,000; insured $10,000.

A. Hamilton Cline, druggist, $20,000. No insurance.

Bennett & Foss, dry goods, &c., $15,000. Insured $5,000.

The Times printing-office, $5,000. No insurance.

G. W. Lission, $2,000. No insurance.

J. B. Gridley, $1,500. Insured $1,200.

Col. Spring's law-office, $1,500. No insurance.

Overland Mail Company, $500. No insurance.

And the Post-office, including 4,000 letters and the last California mail for Memphis.

The entire loss by this disastrous conflagration amounted to fully $200,000. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

Arrival of the Pike's Peak Express.

LARGE AMOUNT OF GOLD DUST—NEW SILVER MINE DISCOVERIES.

St. Joseph, Mo., Thursday, Sept. 20.

The Pike's Peak Express reached here last night with $45,809 in dust, besides some $50,000 in the hands of passengers. This is the largest treasure arrival this season.

Business at Denver City is fast reviving, and the streets present a lively appearance. Hot weather being about over, and cold weather coming on, parties are beginning to arrive from the mountains to purchase their Winter supplies.

Discoveries of silver mines continue to be made which promise to yield well.

A crevice about 550 feet in length where solid ore shows itself on the surface is reported to have been discovered. Several assays have been made with different results, ranging from $100 to $1,700 per ton.

Pure silver in large quantities is also found in the sluices of the Big Blue. Nuggets weighing one and a half ounces have been taken out. Other reports are in circulation that the ore is worthless, and these reports are said to be circulated very industriously by men of capital, who think by that course to buy many of the gold claims for almost nothing. However, the silver mines are being inspected, and, if they yield anywhere near as reported, many millions of dollars will be realized yearly.

Gold claims continue to pay as largely now as they have ever done.

The coaches to and from Denver are crowded with passengers.

From the Plains.

WORK ON THE OVERLAND TELEGRAPH.

Fort Smith, Ark., Thursday, Sept. 20.

Six hundred troops and seventy wagons from the Plains, Capt. Sturgis commanding, arrived here yesterday.

Omaha, N. T., Thursday, Sept. 20.

By a messenger just in from the Plains, we learn that the telegraph poles are set within 90 miles of Fort Kearney, and although they have to be hauled a distance of 50 miles on the western portion of the line, the Company are putting them up at the rate of five and six miles per day.

The polls will be up to Fort Kearney by the middle of October, and the wires stretched about the 1st of November. The Company have pushed the construction of the line thus far so rapidly in order to have it ready to transmit the November elections by pony express viâ Fort Kearney, which will insure a gain of nearly two days upon the present time.

From Washington.

Washington, Friday, Sept. 21.

The award was made to-day to Hiram Sibley, Esq., under the Pacific Telegraph proposals, with full confidence in his ability to fulfill his obligations. He will to-morrow be officially informed of the decision.

James Buchanan, Esq., Private Secretary to the President, will soon resume his residence in Philadelphia. It is understood that the place thus to be vacated has been tendered to Adam J. Glossbrenner, late Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives.

Movements of Judge Douglas.

Cleveland, Friday, Sept. 21.

Judge Douglas arrived on a special train from the East, to-night, and was received with firing of cannon, military companies, a large torch-light procession, and a great concourse of citizens. He was welcomed in a speech by Hon. R. P. Ramsey. Mr. Douglas will speak at 11 o'clock to-morrow.

The National Exhibition.

Cincinnati, Friday, Sept. 21.

The attendance at the Fair yesterday was not so large as on the previous days, owing to rain. The principal feature yesterday was the exhibition of steam fire engines, the first premium of which was awarded to the Goodwill, of Philadelphia, which threw a stream through an inch nozzle 265 feet 5 inches. The first premium for sewing machines was awarded to Wheeler & Wilson; there were fourteen machines exhibited. In consequence of the unfavorable weather yesterday the fair is continued to-day. The trotting stallion match comes off this morning; some fast horses have entered.

The Galway Steamship Company.

Boston, Friday, Sept. 21.

The new directors of the Galway Steamship Company are among the first merchants and bankers in England and Ireland. Mr. Wm. Malcolmson, the Chairman, is the largest steamship owner in Ireland, and Mr. Gurney, Vice-Chairman, of the firm of Overend, Gurney & Co., of London, one of the first bankers in that city.

The Parana made her last outward trip in 9 days and 18 hours. The Connaught sails for Boston the 25th inst., returning Oct. 23.

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows.

Nashville, Friday, Sept. 21.

The officers of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows were installed to-day. The following are additional appointments: Rev. E. M. P. Wells, of Massachusetts, Grand Chaplain; J. D. Farnsworth, of Tennessee, Grand Marshal; J. E. Chamberlain, of Maryland, Grand Messenger; S. H. Sebott, Grand Guardian.

Non-Arrival of the Steamship Adriatic.

Sandy Hook, Friday, Sept. 21.

There are as yet no signs of the steamship Adriatic off this point. Wind moderate, northwest. Weather clear.

Prize-Fighters Sentenced.

Boston, Friday, Sept. 21.

Andrew Gidlow and John Turner, convicted of prize fighting on an island in Boston harbor, were to-day sentenced to State Prison for one year.

Obituary.

St. Louis, Friday, Sept. 21.

Hon. John C. Richardson, an ex-member of the Supreme Bench of Missouri, died this morning at 3 o'clock.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

The Dry Season—Dearth of News—A Community that Reads from Habit—San Francisco Printers, &c., &c.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Monday, Aug. 27, 1860.

It being August, mosquitoes have arrived, but they have no song in them; they are too bashful to present their bills; indeed too stiff with cold to perform any of the legendary feats of mosquitoes. But for the prejudice against them, brought with us from East, they probably would be reckoned more harmless than flies. Indeed I suspect the injured insect looks upon our whole Summer as a false pretence—if he does not, I do. There is little to distinguish it from Winter, except that where there is a carpet of verdure in February, in August it is a matting of brown dead grass and weeds; where in February the flowers peep out from green leaves, they bloom now out of a bank of dust—the dust taking the form of shrubs and vines, but little of their hue or fragrance; then the day was usually clear and calm from sunrise to sunset, and the nights were charming; now the day is pleasant till 2 o'clock, as men in Spring count pleasantness, but after that it is pleasant only as sea-faring people, or as those who have vivid recollections of the way humanity is wont to wilt and perspire in the dog-days, account pleasant weather. There is a stiff breeze blowing from the west, and by 5 o'clock the fog comes driving over the ridge of Russian Hills and rolling up the bay, so that by sunset only the tops of the hills see the sun's last rays, while all the valleys are expunged from vision. The fog is not cold, but refreshing. To stand anywhere in the open air toward evening, and especially to take a brisk walk, is like making a trip off Rockaway Beach for blue-fish, and you come home wondering why people call this the dry season. In the morning the grass, or rather the hay on the turf is wet with dew; tubs and pails hang together as well as if it rained weekly. Every night you think an easterly storm is blowing up, and that surely it will rain to-morrow. Vegetation takes this time for its rest, but if you will water shrub or vegetable it will keep on blooming or fruiting and ignore its resting time, whatever the Botanics may say to the contrary.

The dry season is the proper time for a dearth of news, and the almanac in this respect is carefully heeded. The week past has scarcely unfolded an item worth picking. There has been a long abortive trial of FRED. MARRIOTT, of the News Letter, for his libel on KOHLER; or rather, under that name, a jury in the Court of Sessions has been trying KOHLER on the charge of sending a bar of lead to Paris in lieu of the same weight of gold. The prosecutors of MARRIOTT allowed him, under the pretence of justifying, or proving the truth of his alleged libel, to bring all WELLS, FARGO & Co.'s establishment into court to show that KOHLER either was guilty of the charge, or that he acted when he settled up with them precisely as a guilty man ought to have done. On Saturday night the case was given to the jury; they stewed over it till midnight, and then agreed that they never could agree, and so were discharged. KOHLER has in one of the District Courts a suit against WELLS, FARGO & Co. to recover $4,000 that he paid—under constraint, he says—to them for the redemption of the bogus bar, and for the expenses in discovering its ownership. He has not much helped it by this unsuccessful and badly-managed libel suit.

An old gray-headed J. B. politician in the Custom-house was caught the other day stealing eggs and plums from his friend whose paper he had been in the habit of reading gratuitously every day for months back.

Except some stale Sandwich Island and Southern Coast news, and some political items, which read precisely as if they had been published seventeen times before within seven weeks, not a thing has happened in this town worth making a spread on. Yet there are, at this writing, 42 periodicals printed in this literary community, of which 31 rejoice in English type, 4 in German, 5 in French, 1 in Spanish, and 1 in Italian. Ah, it is when news is so scarce, and newspapers are so abundant, that brains come in play! and it would do you good to see what a lavish outlay of beautiful brains has been made here this last week. As to the character of the editors who manage, and the reporters who supply with material, these 42 periodicals, perhaps you cannot better judge than by seeing what experienced hands set the type for them. In a little office where they employ but 14 men, I paused the other day, while the foreman, himself an ex-publisher of a fine family of dailies, pointed out his famous men:

That stout man was a Lieutenant in STEVENSON'S regiment. He was printer on a paper in this town before the gold discovery was made, and used to go fishing with Gen. VALLEJO.

That one owns a fine ranche on the Sacramento River on which there is, this year, a noble crop of squatters. He was formerly partner on one of our papers here, for which BRODERICK offered $60,000. He is fabulously old, but he made 26 hours' work and wages, not long since, in 24 consecutive hours.

There is one who was partner in the State printing when, for setting Spanish copy the Legislature allowed double price; and never discovered that the State printers, with a generous construction, took double wages for Spanish press-work also.

The next man is the worthy brother of a member of Congress from close by New-York City, who has made a good deal of noise during the last four years. He was formerly engaged in publishing a daily that still lives here.

The next is a Doctor, and was a partner on the Chronicle when it was worth $75,000.

The next is a Judge from one of the Western States. He has a shingle up and does some law, but likes type-setting better, and suits his fancy with either, as either business presses most and pays best. And so they go. I expect you to reach this conclusion: that with such men to set type, and 42 papers to be supported, and no news to put in them, our's must be a reading people, from long and irrepressible habit.

GLAUCUS.

LAW REPORTS.

More Alleged Ticket Swindlers.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Yesterday, Henry D. Smithurst, convicted on Wednesday of swindling Arthur McAuley, of $60, in the purchase of a ticket for Liverpool, was brought up for sentence. His counsel presented a bill of exceptions, which Judge Russell took time to consider, and he was accordingly again remanded.

Ex-Alderman Wilson pleaded guilty, on Tuesday, to a charge of assault and battery on Alderman Russell. He was to have been sentenced yesterday, but Judge Russell said that as a civil suit had been commenced, it was the custom of the Court, pending the decision of such suit, to suspend sentence. And sentence was suspended accordingly.

John Gilbert was then placed upon his trial charged with ticket-swindling. As the case appeared from the evidence, the facts were these: On the 11th of July, William Stotz, a German, residing in New-Jersey, wished to purchase a steerage passage for Liverpool, and on reaching this City was met by a man named George L. Ward, who took him to an office in Liberty-street, where he was introduced to Gilbert, who agreed to sell him a passage ticket for $15, which sum he paid. But Gilbert, after securing the money, would not give him the ticket until he had paid $12 more "for board." He demurred, but paid, and on reaching the ship—the Manhattan—learned from her captain that the extra $12 was an imposition. He accordingly caused Gilbert's arrest. The defence yesterday went to show that the office belonged to one Jacob Wilson, who had appointed Gilbert his agent for the sale of tickets on the Black Ball Line, and that Ward had been appointed his sub-agent, in compliance with the terms of the statute. A document to that effect was produced in Court. The whole affair was very much complicated, and it did not appear how this agency and sub-agency warranted the overcharge of $12; but Judge RUSSELL charged strongly in the defendant's favor, and the jury acquitted him. He left the Court in high glee, followed by a crowd of sympathizing ticket dealers.

Counsel for Ward, who was jointly indicted with Gilbert, moved for a nolle prosequi in his client's case. Judge RUSSELL said he had not power to grant it without the District Attorney's consent. Mr. Anthon, the Assistant-District Attorney, (Mr. Waterbury, as usual, being absent,) refused. Counsel then asked that he should be discharged on his own recognizances. Judge RUSSELL said he had the power to grant that application, and did so incontinently. Accordingly Ward, with his friends, walked out of Court, rejoicing.

Two boys, named Gale and Cregan, pleaded guilty to an attempt at burglary, and were sent to the State Prison for two years.

Andrew Cassidy pleaded guilty to burglary in the third degree, and was sent to the State Prison for two years.

Thomas O'Brien pleaded guilty to petit larceny, and was sent to the Penitentiary for three months.

The Court adjourned to Monday.

The Cheever Church Controversy.

CASE TO BE SUBMITTED ON POINTS.

Hart et al. vs. White et al.—This was the day for which the argument in this noted case was set down, to be heard before Justice INGRAHAM, at Chambers of the Supreme Court.

On being called in its order, Mr. E. W. Chester, attorney for the defendants, applied for a postponement, producing a letter from Mr. Evarts which stated that that gentleman, who had been retained as counsel, could not attend on this occasion. Upon such a showing, Mr. Chester thought himself entitled to an adjournment of the case to such time as Mr. Evarts could be present to conduct the argument.

Mr. Noyes objected, stating that he had come down to town especially to attend to this cause for two or three days now, and that it had been just as inconvenient for him to be present as it would have been for Mr. Evarts. He thought the case should go on.

Justice INGRAHAM asked if the case would "spoil" by delay, and remarked that it would do no good to press the matter in Mr. Evarts' absence, as he might apply for an order vacating any judgment taken by his default.

Mr. Noyes reminded the Court that the attorney for the defendants was present, and that so far as he (Mr. Noyes) was concerned, he was willing to let the attorneys in the case on both sides, Messrs. Chester and Gilbert, make the argument.

Mr. Chester stated that Mr. Evarts had been retained to conduct the case of the defendants, and they would not feel satisfied if he did not do it.

Mr. Noyes thought perhaps Mr. Evarts had no great liking for the case, and suggested that an action would lie to recover his retainer, in case the defendants thought proper to bring such. Upon the suggestion of Mr. Noyes, the defendants finally agreed to submit the case on written points. This will be done this (Saturday) morning.

The motion is to quash the return of the defendants to the alterative mandamus, and for a peremptory mandamus compelling the defendants to give the plaintiffs certificates of election to the office of Trustees of the Church of the Puritans. It will be remembered that the defendants returned that other parties were entitled to said office, having received the greatest number of legal votes cast at the election therefor. Inasmuch as it was not shown how such parties were declared elected, the return is thought by the plaintiffs to be evasive and insufficient.

Edward Gilbert and Wm. C. Noyes for plaintiffs; E. W. Chester and Wm. M. Evarts for defendants.

Parties—Husband may be Joined with Wife, when.

Geo. M. Weber and Bertha his Wife vs. Fitz Moritz.—This was a motion to vacate an order of arrest formerly obtained against defendant, and now come on before Justice BOSWORTH, at Special Term of the Superior Court. The following is the opinion in the case, which fully discloses the facts involved:

BOSWORTH, J.—The defendant moves to vacate the order of arrest heretofore made in this action, and moves on the affidavit on which it was granted. That affidavit states that the defendant violently assaulted the said Bertha; injured her severely; and that the said George M. has sustained special damages which are stated.

The defendant insists that there is a misjoinder of parties; that if the action be treated as one to recover the husband's special damage, he alone should sue; and that if it be an action to recover damages for the injury to the wife, she should be the sole plaintiff. He further insists that a demurrer for the misjoinder would be sustained, and that the order should, therefore, be vacated.

The statute of 1860, (chap 90 § 2,) provides that any married woman may sue in her own name to recover damages for any injury to her person, the same as if she were sole, and that the damages recovered or received on a settlement shall be her sole and separate property. Assuming that she should sue alone, it is not clear that the defects can be reached by demurrer. (7 Abbott, 41; 17 N. Y., 592; 19 How. 195.) The authorities on this point seem to be conflicting. But assuming that a demurrer will lie, I think that the plaintiffs would be allowed to amend the summons and complaint on terms. Inasmuch as the affidavit shows a cause of action, and the only defect is that there is one plaintiff more than there should be, and as that defect is amendable, I do not think the motion should be granted.

Motion denied, but without costs.

Forgetting a Summons.

Ball vs. Mander.—Mr. Mander was in a drinking saloon one day, playing a game of cards. Somebody came in and served a summons upon him. It was a summons from a Justice's Court; what is called a short summons, returnable in this instance in two days. He put the paper in his pocket to continue his game, but unluckily forgot all about it until the return day had passed. Meanwhile, the plaintiff appeared before the Justice, and, in defendant's absence, obtained a judgment. Defendant then applied to the General Term of the Common Pleas, on appeal, to excuse his default.

The Court held the excuse to be unsatisfactory. Defendant was clearly negligent in paying more attention to his game of cards than to the process of the Court.

Insurance Policy—Other Insurance Allowed.

Jesse W. Benedict vs. The New-York and Erie Insurance Co.—This case was before the Common Pleas, at General Term, on an appeal. It appears that the defendants executed a policy of insurance on property belonging to August Jansen, who afterwards sold his claim to the plaintiff. The insurance was for $2,000. The policy contained a clause in these words, "Privileged for $4,500 other insurance." This was written. The printed portions of the policy contained a provision that if other insurance should be made upon the property, and notice thereof not given to the defendants with all reasonable diligence, and acknowledged by them, either by indorsement on the policy or otherwise in writing, the policy should cease and be of no further effect.

The principal defence in the case was, that as other insurance had been obtained by Jansen, and there was no proof that defendants had acknowledged it in writing, the plaintiff could not recover.

The Court, however, held the objection untenable.

HILTON, J., (after stating the facts.)—The objection comes too late to be available, assuming that there is force in it, but which we think there is not. A precisely similar question arose in the case of Benedict vs. The Ocean Insurance Company, at the last February term, and we then held that the effect of writing such a clause in a printed policy was to permit the assured to procure other insurance to the amount specified without notice to the company; and to that extent the printed clause requiring notice to be given of all additional insurance was waived. Any other construction, it seems to us, would render these words meaningless and in opposition to the obvious intent of the parties at the time of their insertion.

Decisions.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

INGRAHAM, J.—Groves vs. Groves.—Alimony of $5 per week and counsel fee of $50 allowed.

Ackerly vs. Butterworth.—The defendant may leave an order that the bail be exonerated, and that the plaintiff charge him in execution within three months after the return of execution against his property.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

BOSWORTH, J.—Meyer vs. Second-avenue Railroad Company.—Case settled.

FRIDAY, Sept. 21—P. M.

There is continued animation at the Stock Exchange, and speculation excites quite as much interest on the street as at any time since the present general advance set in early in July. The rise has now had more than a sixty days' run, and a large amount of the early contracts has been closed up and the profits thereon realized by the fortunate buyers. And not many of the same parties, with increased pecuniary strength and moral confidence, together with numerous fresh allies, are entering the market afresh on the New-York Railway shares for a further rise in prices. The speculative sellers against the market have not been able this week to resist the movement so far as Central, Erie and Hudson are concerned, and have only partial success in the Western direction. To-day, there is an additional advance in the New-York and some few of the Western roads, while the Chicago and Rock Island line is sold down with more than customary boldness, the figures falling from 80@80½ yesterday to 78½@¾ this afternoon—closing 78¾. No specific reason is given for this turn in one of the favorite Western speculatives, except, perhaps, that some of the leading friends of the Stock are temporarily out of town. Another opinion is that even they are not unwilling to have the Stock Exchange people increase their short contracts on the eve of the October dividend. The demand for New-York and Erie continues the feature of the Bull movement, and amounted to-day to over 5,000 shares, the latest printed sales being 37¼ ₱ cent. New-York Central is also strong, and a commission-house representing, or supposed to represent, an influential interest, took 1,000 shares this afternoon at 89¼ ₱ cent., buyer 30 days. Hudson River nearly attained again the top rate made early in the week; sales at 63¾ seller 30 days. There was a good demand for Harlem, and an improved movement in Reading. With the exception of Rock Island, which was quite unsettled at the close, the Western Stocks left off steady. The following is the comparative figures with yesterday's currency:

| | Thurs. | Fri. | | Thurs. | Fri. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Central | 88⅝ | 88¾ | Erie | 36¾ | 37 |
| Rock Island | 80 | 78⅝ | Illinois Central | 87½ | 87¼ |
| Galena | 78⅝ | 78⅝ | Toledo | 47¾ | 48 |
| Harlem | 19⅞ | 19¾ | Mich. Central | 71½ | 70¾ |
| Mich. Southern | 23 | 23 | Burlington | 91¾ | 92 |
| Mich. Guar'teed | 49¾ | 48¾ | Reading | 48 | 48⅜ |

In State Stocks the demand was rather firmer for Missouris, at the recent decline to 80 ₱ cent. Railway Bonds are generally steady, and the Erie issues firm, the fourth mortgage selling up to 85 ₱ cent. The shares of the Pacific Mail and Panama Company have nearly disappeared, for the moment, from active speculation.

The supply of Money to the Stock Brokers at 7 ₱ cent. to-day was easier, and some of the old firms have their wants answered at 6 ₱ cent. With the Discount Brokers there is an inquiry for very prime selections of paper, at 6½@7 ₱ cent.; fair double names at 7@8 ₱ cent. The Exchange market for the mail to-morrow closes steady, 109¾ @109⅞. About half a million in Gold bars and Silver will go to Europe by the steamers of Saturday.

The traffic of the Michigan Southern Railroad, which is not officially reported by weeks, is said to show an increase on last season of $36,700 for the first two weeks in September, to wit, about $20,000 for the first week, and something over $16,000 for the second.

The new arrangement of the old Stonington line of steamers to call at Groton Point is said to shorten the through run to Boston about three-quarters of an hour, and has considerably increased the passenger traffic over the Stonington Road. The proprietors of the Commonwealth and Plymouth Rock, Messrs. DANIEL DREW and associates, are delighted at the change, and the leading stockholders in the railroad, such as Messrs. TILESTON, MATTHEW MORGAN, &c., talk of much higher value to their stock.

The stockholders of the New-Haven and Hartford Road held their annual meeting at the Company's office in Hartford, yesterday afternoon. The directors reported the following as the total income of the road for the year ending Aug. 31, 1860:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| From passengers | | $428,042 30 |
| From freight | | 320,853 53 |
| Rents, expresses and Mails | | 41,640 93 |
| Total | | $790,536 76 |
| The expenditures for operating and repairs of the road, including the purchase of new cars, and miscellaneous expenses, is | $388,631 46 | |
| Interest paid on bonds | 55,438 40 | $444,079 86 |
| Net earnings | | $346,459 90 |

The gross income of the road exceeds that of last year the sum of $67,076 47, and this again is nearly equally divided between the passenger and freight traffic.

The St. Louis, Alton and Chicago Railroad weekly statement of earnings, 9th to 16th September, is as follows:

| | Present week. | This Month, to 16th inst. |
|---|---|---|
| Passengers | $8,666 53 | $17,075 85 |
| Freight | 14,104 29 | 30,129 37 |

| Correspo'g period in 1859 | 19,610,00 | 42,442 00 |

The earnings of the La Crosse and Milwaukee Railroad in August were:

| | |
|---|---|
| August, 1860 | $52,570 |
| August, 1859 | 44,603 |
| Increase | $7,967 |

The Chemical Bank has declared a quarterly dividend of 6 ₱ cent., payable on the 1st of October. The Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Company have declared a semi-annual dividend of 3½ ₱ cent., payable on and after the 1st of October.

The earnings of the Michigan Central Railroad, for the second week of September, were:

1860 $59,399 12 | 1859 $52,433 39
Increase 5,965 73

The Indianapolis and Cincinnati Railroad earned in August,

1860 $38,366 49 | 1859 $33,464 46
Increase 4,902 03

The receipts of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Company, for the second week in September, 1860, are:

| | |
|---|---|
| From passengers, &c | $6,962 19 |
| From freight | 12,409 69 |
| Total | $19,371 88 |
| Same week in 1859: | |
| From passengers, &c | $4,347 93 |
| From freight | 6,847 84 |
| Total | $11,195 77 |
| Increase in 1860 | $8,176 11 |

The total reception of Flour and Grain since Jan. 1, now reach 24,119,726 bushels, or 13,514,590 bushels greater than that at the same time last year, and 6,207,633 bushels greater than to the same time in 1858.

The following table shows the difference in the receipts of the four principal articles in the two years, from Jan. 1 to the present time:

| | 1859. | 1860. | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Flour, bbls | 363,817 | 315,398 | Decrease | 48,419 |
| Wheat, bush | 3,936,275 | 7,660,605 | Increase | 3,724,333 |
| Corn, Bush | 3,945,310 | 13,580,919 | Increase | 9,635,609 |
| Oats, bush | 725,280 | 862,823 | Increase | 137,543 |

Respecting the Wheat and Corn sales at Chicago the past week, the same paper adds:

"The most intense anxiety has been felt here for a week or ten days to learn the latest accounts of European harvests and markets, and the report of 'good, better, best,' as the description of the weather by three successive steamers has been enough to drive all to despair of such high prices for Wheat as had previously been entertained. The decline here has sometimes been 3c.@4c. in a day, sometimes only 1c.@2c., and once in a while a slight rally. The decline in Spring Wheat has brought No. 1 in store from 90c.@91c. a week ago, down to 82c.@83c., though in the unsettled state of feeling at the close we may quote a whole range of 82c.@88c., while No. 2 Spring in the same way has come down from 88c.@88½c. a week ago to 79c.@80c., and vibrating now at 79c.@85c. Rejected Spring in the same way from 80c.@82c. down to 70c.@76c. The better grades of Spring Wheat arrive principally in bags, and of course have ranged wide, from $1 down to 85c. The demand for Wheat in bags is very irregular, sometimes active and paying 2c.@3c. more than the same quality commands in store, sometimes light, and leaving parcels duller than if in bulk. Winter Wheat is more irregular than Spring, White selling at $1 12½@$1 25 for good to choice and $1 05@$1 10 for fair or mixed. Red Winter ranges from the price of No. 1 Spring 8c.@10c. upward, according to quality. Corn has been in fair request and better at 37c.@39c. for No. 1 and 36c.@38c. on No. 2 in store, ranging at the inside figures on dull days, and running chiefly to the outside on active days, but closing quite firm. Whatever may be the market price, the difference of 1c. is very regular between No. 1 and No. 2. Rejected is seldom heard of. Canal and River Corn has sold at 37½c.@39c. afloat for No. 2; 39c.@40c. for No. 1, and 42c.@44½c. for pure yellow."

The return from the Bank of England for the week ending the 5th September, gives the following results, when compared with the previous week:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Public deposits | £5,496,821 | Increase | £547,816 |
| Other deposits | 13,431,519 | Decrease | 736,657 |
| Rest | 3,777,723 | Increase | 295,813 |
| Government securities | 9,663,511 | Increase | 20,113 |
| Other securites | 20,101,934 | Increase | 105,208 |
| Notes unemployed | 8,484,285 | Increase | 36,575 |

The amount of notes in circulation is £21,430,090, being an increase of £288,305, and the stock of bullion, in both Departments, is £16,170,047, showing an increase of £275,694, when compared with the preceding returns.

Southern Flour is improving, being more sought after. The reported transactions add up 2,300 bbls., in lots., chiefly at $5 75@$6 for very poor to good superior Alexandria, Baltimore, &c., and $6 05@$7 50 for fancy to very choice extra brands, ₱ bbl. Canadian is in request, including superfine at $5 15@$5 25, and inferior to very choice extra, $5 45@$7 50, ₱ bbl.; 750 bbls. changed hands. Rye Flour is selling slowly at $3 50@$4 35 for fine and superfine ₱ bbl. Corn Meal continues in limited demand at $3 50 for Jersey and Western, and $3 95 for Brandywine, ₱ bbl.

FOREIGN LIQUORS—Are quiet at previous rates.

FRUIT—Holders of Foreign, in view of the reduced supplies available, are very firm. The demand, however, is limited.

GRAIN—Wheat has attracted more attention, mainly from shippers, at rather firmer prices. The reported sales, since our last, add up 125,000 bushels, including white Western, ordinary to very choice, at $1 33@$1 50; soft do., at $1 30@$1 32; Amber Western, $1 30; sound Red Western at $1 28@$1 29; unsound and soft do., at $1 26@$1 27; Amber Iowa Spring, at $1 26; Milwaukee Club, $1 22½@$1 25; Racine Spring at $1 22; Chicago Spring, unsound to good No. 1, at $1 15@$1 21; red State at $1 26@$1 27; white Kentucky, at $1 50, ₱ bushel. Corn opened buoyantly, but closed with a downward tendency. The supply is moderate; sales 76,000 bushels, at 66½c.@68c. for mixed Western; 69c. for yellow Western, and 70c.@71c. for yellow Southern, ₱ bushel. Rye continues in request at 79c.@80c. ₱ bushel. Oats are moderately inquired for, including Canada at 37½c.@38½c.; Western a 37c.@38c., and State at 38c.@39c. ₱ bushel. Barley is scarce and wanted; sales 7,400 bushels, including Canada West at 90c. and State at 85c. ₱ bush. WELLS' Chicago Commercial Express, of yesterday, says of Broom Corn: "Receipts from the new crop begin to be large, and though there is a good demand, sellers are rather above buyers' views. Sales have embraced loose parcels prime at $70@$75 ₱ ton, and in bales at $80@$85, with some held out of market at $90. The quality of the receipts here thus far is very superior. At the close, several sales are making at $70@$80 for good to very prime, in bales."

MISCELLANEOUS.

TO SOUTHERNERS.
DRINKERS OF CONGRESS WATER.

Much spurious Mineral Water is sold as "CONGRESS WATER" by unprincipled persons or counterfeiters, who, when they dare not use that name, call it "Saratoga" Water; although "Saratoga" is only the name of the town in which the Spring is located.

To protect the public from such impositions we have ALL our corks branded thus ☞

CONGRESS
C. & W.
WATER.

Any not having these words and letters on the Corks are Counterfeit; and the purchaser should prosecute the Seller for swindling.

Orders will receive prompt attention if addressed to us, at our Southern Dépôt of Congress Water, No. 98 Cedar-st., New-York City.

CLARKE & WHITE,
Proprietors Congress Spring.

Lists of dealers who procure Congress Water for their sales direct from our house, are kept at our office for distribution to those who desire to purchase genuine Congress Water in their own neighborhood. C. & W.

INTERESTING CASE OF OCULAR TREATMENT.—Last Monday forenoon, while the Tompkins Market Guards were practicing target shooting at Bull's Ferry, a young man, named Thomas Connaught, met with a serious accident, which, at the time, caused great excitement among his comrades and the bystanders. As one of the marksmen was in the act of firing, young Connaught stepped up in advance of his turn, and just as he got abreast of his comrade, the latter's musket exploded. Connaught fell to the ground, and on examination his comrades found that he had lost the sight of both eyes. He was immediately conveyed home, and waited upon by Dr. Lighthill. Contrary to the apprehensions of his friends, the Doctor pronounced the case tractable, and refuted the idea entertained by all the spectators of the accident, viz., that small splinters from the shattered musket had penetrated the ball of the eye. Under Dr. Lighthill's manipulation, the patient, after being perfectly blind from 11 A. M. on Monday, recovered the sight of the left eye Tuesday forenoon, and yesterday morning at 3 o'clock that of the right eye. It is probable that the shock of the explosion upon the nerves of the eye produced the temporary blindness.—New-York World.

STEAM YACHT FOR SALE.—A FINE YACHT in good order, with cabin room for 18 or 20 persons, will be sold low on immediate application to SMEDLEY & LENOX, near the club-house, foot of Court-st., Brooklyn.

FOR WARMING CHURCHES, HOUSES, &c., get Bartlett's Patent Heaters for Wood or Coal. They are economical and free from gas.
BARTLETT & LESLEY, No. 426 Broadway.

DR. RIGGS' TRUSS CHALLENGES COMPARISON with any other. New appliances for varicole and enlarged veins, No. 2 Barclay-st.

LOST AND FOUND.

INSTRUCTION.

TO LITERARY SOCIETIES.

In reply to various inquiries, Mr. FITZGERALD TASISTRO, whose rehearsals of Shakespeare's Plays from memory have been so highly eulogized by the Press of New-York and the adjacent cities, begs to inform the managers of lyceums and other literary institutions throughout the country, that he is ready to receive proposals for the delivery of his dramatic entertainments during the ensuing Fall and Winter season.

Mr. TASISTRO being the inventor of an entirely new system for acquiring a perfect knowledge of any language within will be happy at any time to attend classes which may be formed either for the study of the French, Spanish or Italian languages, or by foreigners for the purpose of perfecting themselves in English, especially as regards the art of speaking correctly and with fluency.

AN INCREDIBLY SHORT PERIOD OF TIME,

Mr. TASISTRO having been the official translator and interpreter of the Government at Washington for several years, and therefore fully versed in all the intricacies of legal phraseology, likewise offers his services as translator of foreign languages, especially to the proprietors of leading newspapers, who necessarily require expedition as well as accuracy in the rendition of foreign news into English on the arrival of every European mail.

Address the advertiser, care of Messrs. ROE LOCKWOOD & SON, Booksellers, No. 411 Broadway.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Prince of Wales on Thursday evening, at Detroit, experienced a very decided foretaste of the receptions which await him in his brief tour through the United States. He reached Windsor at 8 o'clock, and went on board the Detroit and and Windsor ferry-steamer Windsor, where he was received by the Governor of Michigan, the Mayor and Councilmen of Detroit, and a number of prominent citizens. When the steamer reached American waters, the Mayor welcomed the Prince, as Baron Renfrew, to the United States. The river and the city presented a magnificent spectacle, the steamers and other vessels in the former being hung with variegated lamps, and decorated with banners and emblems, and the latter being splendidly illuminated. Rockets and other fireworks were let off continually, and the river was a blaze of light, the whole forming the grandest display witnessed by his Highness during his sojourn in America. The crowd was so dense at the landing-place that it was found impossible to form the procession which had been arranged to escort him to his hotel, and after several ineffectual attempts it was found necessary for him to enter a private carriage and proceed through by-streets. His suite followed him shortly afterwards, escorted by the firemen of Detroit. The enthusiasm of the crowd was something tremendous, and found vent in cheer upon cheer. Yesterday, after a drive through the city with the Mayor, his progress being impeded at every step by enthusiastic crowds, the Prince with his suite proceeded to the Railroad dépôt and took his departure for Chicago, where, after a somewhat tedious journey, he arrived at 7½ o'clock last evening: Here, as at Detroit, an immense concourse awaited his arrival, though, through the admirable regulations of the Police, everything was done "decently and in order." The party will leave for St. Louis this afternoon.

The mails by the Europa, which arrived at Boston yesterday morning, reached this City last evening. They contain no details of the flight of the King of Naples, or of the entry of Garibaldi into the Capital. This intelligence was forwarded by telegraph to Queenstown, at which point the Europa touched. Some interesting particulars, however, are received of the preparations of Francis II. to leave, and of the causes that have since induced him to take such a step. Two articles—one from the London Shipping Gazette, on the object of Mr. Lindsay's mission to the United States, and another from the London Post, on the President's reply to Lord John Russell's circular about the slave-trade—are published elsewhere, and will attract attention.

By the bark Eliza Barss, at this port from Bermuda, we receive our correspondence to the 11th inst. The Bermudians were in the greatest state of depression on account of the receipt of intelligence that it would be impossible for the Prince of Wales to visit them. By way of Bermuda we have news from Barbados to the 25th ult. The drouth which had so long prevailed had been succeeded by copious and refreshing rains, which had infused new life into the agricultural interest. The burnt district at Bridgetown was being rapidly rebuilt. From Jamaica we have advices to the 24th ult. The general election was over, and it was believed the Government had secured a safe working majority in the Legislature. The contract for carrying out the project of steam communication with the United States had been awarded to Mr. Holt, of Liverpool. The island was generally healthy, and business was dull. From Demerara, Antigua, St. Vincent and Trinidad, the news is not important.

By the arrival of the brig Isabel Beurmann, Capt. Tuniss, we have advices from Port au Prince to Sept. 5. The opening of markets on Sundays has been prohibited. The country is very healthy and quiet. At Port au Prince they are improving the streets, and making trenches outside the city in order to keep the water from running in during the rainy season.

The express from Pike's Peak, which arrived at St. Joseph, Mo., on Wednesday night, brought the largest amount of treasure yet received at one time. Business at Denver City is reported to be reviving. Discoveries of silver leads continue to be made, which are expected to yield well. The mines are being inspected by competent persons, and their prospective yield will probably be soon determined.

A most disastrous conflagation occurred at Fort Smith, Ark., on the morning of the 20th inst., involving a loss estimated at $200,000,—supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. Among the buildings destroyed were the City Hotel and the garrison block, the latter belonging to the Gov ernment.

The Breckinridge Democracy of the City met in their various District Conventions last evening, but on account of divisions, want of a quorum and other causes, only about one-half of the Conventions made any nominations.

The Union Wide-Awakes and their friends assembled in large numbers at Stuyvesant Institute last evening, and were addressed by Col. Evans, of the Baltimore Patriot, A. Oakey Hall and C. S. Spencer. It was an enthusiastic gathering.

The argument in the Cheever Church Controversy, on the motion to quash the return of the defendants to the alternative mandamus and for a peremptory mandamus compelling the defendants, White et al. to give the plaintiffs, Hart et al., certificates of election to the office of Trustees of the Church, was to have been heard before Justice Ingraham, at Chambers of the Supreme Court, yesterday, but the counsel for defendants were not ready, and the case will be submitted on written points this morning. The alleged ticket-swindlers occupied the attention of the Court of General Sessions, but after an able charge in the favor of one of them named John Gilbert, by Judge Russell, he was acquitted. Another, named Ward, indicted with him, was discharged by the Judge upon his own recognizance, strongly in opposition to the efforts of the Assistant District-Attorney. The Judge again remanded the convicted ticket-swindler, Smithurst, for sentence.

There was a fair degree of animation in the Stock market yesterday; the New-York railways higher and firmer at the close, while some of the Western shares were easier; Rhode Island being the principal object of sale. No alteration in Money or Exchange.

The sales of Flour and Wheat indicated an improvement in the market. Corn opened buoyant, but closed with a downward tendency. Barley was scarce and wanted. Coffee was more active. Teas were in moderate request, as were likewise Hay, Tallow, Oils, Whisky, Iron and Lead. Hops and Tobacco were in good demand. Tin attracted more attention. Sugars and Molasses were inquired for. The changes in other branches of business were not important.

The Nonsense of Disunion.

The declaration of Mr. Kendall, that in case any overt act of resistance to Mr. Lincoln's inauguration, in the event of his election, were attempted, or any disposition were shown by any of the States to secede in consequence of it, 200,000 men would be found ready to volunteer for the execution of the laws and maintenance of the Union, has, it is said, created such a sensation amongst the extreme section of the Pro-Slavery Party, that they have already began to denounce him as "an Abolitionist."

The number of absurd doctrines that a man has got to swallow now-a-days, in order to earn the reputation of orthodoxy in the eyes of the slaveholding inquisition of the South, is daily increasing. It is by no means sufficient, as it was in the earlier days of the Republic, to hold that the present maintenance of Slavery is a disagreeable necessity imposed on us by the policy or wickedness of our ancestors, and of which we should all be the better for being rid. If anybody in the South wants now-a-days, not simply to retain the good will of his slaveholding neighbors, but to escape violence and robbery at their hands, he must believe, or hypocritically profess to believe, that it is the best institution, both for whites and blacks, that human wisdom ever devised; that it makes the best white man a great deal better to own slaves, and that it makes the best black man immeasurably better to be owned. Moreover, he must believe that not simply is it a good system morally, but economically; that slave labor is the most profitable and the cheapest; that slave regions present a picture of wealth, prosperity and happiness, such as cannot be witnessed in any other part of the world. Any man living in the South who wishes to escape social damnation must as carefully avoid discussion or inquiry on all these topics, as sedulously refuse all faith and credit to the deductions of his own reason, or the evidence of his own senses, as any Catholic that ever trembled under the eye of an inquisitor. If he study, investigate, travel and see for himself, he must stifle his doubts. The slightest symptom of waning faith would lead to his summary expulsion from his home.

To this old and well-established creed the fire-eaters are now seeking to add another clause. Anybody who wants to lead a quiet life south of Mason and Dixon's line, must become, as fast as possible, firmly persuaded that a few thousand spouters, and bravos, and swashbucklers, like Messrs. Wise and Pryor, of Virginia, are fully equal to the task of overturning the Government of the United States whenever they please to take the field. There is not a doubt, or the shadow of a doubt, upon the mind of any sensible man in the Union, that there could not be found among the restless and idle vagabonds of the Gulf States 10,000 men foolhardy enough to enter on any such enterprise under the leadership of any of the orators who are now talking of disunion. Those who join a Southern army for the purpose of marching away to Washington, depose the President, and fight the North, must, as the world well knows, be men who have neither wives nor relatives to wait in terror for the issue on lonely plantations with Abolitionist phantoms dancing on every wall. Whenever any such army appears, it will be made up, therefore, of reckless adventurers who have broken most of the ties that bind them to human society, and who will have nothing to lose by a social convulsion. Pryor himself, as far as we know of him, is a prince compared to what the rank and file of that army would be, and yet even he has publicly announced his willingness to play the part of an assassin. Now, what is expected of Mr. Kendall, and of the whole of us, of the industrious millions of the North and West, and of the mass of planters at the South, with enormous interests dependent on the maintenance of peace and security is, that we should believe that this ignoble horde would be allowed to tramp into Washington, murder Mr. Lincoln, turn Congress out of doors, plunder the treasury, and put an end to the United States, that the militia of the various States would not stir hand or foot to prevent it, and that a few roars and threats from Roger A. Pryor would keep us all at our firesides, our knees shaking and our muskets in the corner! This actually bids fair to become an article of faith in the Pro-Slavery creed between now and November. We should not be surprised if anybody who doubts this will be denounced as false to the South, and be invited to take up his residence elsewhere.

The probability that anything like forcible resistance to Mr. Lincoln's inauguration or to his administration of the Government will be attempted, is too ridiculous for serious discussion. When a Government is menaced so loudly on the platform, it may generally feel tolerably secure from all attacks in the field. We allude to the subject solely in order once more to express our great regret at the quantity of drivel and fustian into which the excitement of every Presidential canvass now betrays Southern politicians. All the stump orators of that region seem to compete in violence of language—and what makes the matter worse, and more humiliating for us all, is that their supporters at the North seem to strive against one another, with equal zeal, who shall seem most frightened. Every time a drunken yell or ribald threat reaches us from a Southern stump or bar-room, half-a-dozen prominent Northern Democrats try to make their teeth chatter and their lips turn white. One agitator declares Lincoln shall find no office-holders at the South; a second outdoes the first by swearing that he shall never be inaugurated; and a third, determined not to be surpassed, offers to stab him with "a dagger;" and as each outburst of folly reaches us, half-a-dozen dry goods merchants drop on their knees and commence propitiatory devotions. There is nothing in our history, not even the mania for Shanghai fowls, that will appear half so ludicrous fifty years hence as these periodical threats on the part of the Southerners, without men, money, credit or arms, and surrounded as they are by a multitude of slaves, whom they fear and suspect, to break up the most powerful Government in the world, and these periodical efforts of the great North to believe that they really mean what they say.

A Point Well Taken.—We understand that Alderman Boole is seriously considering the course which it will be proper for him to adopt upon the receipt of an invitation to attend the Prince's Ball. His first impulse was to accept it,—as a matter of duty to the country and the Prince. But the case is not so clear. He owes something to himself and to propriety. And after having so recently had two Princes in his keeping,—both older men and possessed of more actual power than the Prince of Wales,—coming from a more populous country and from a much greater distance, Ald. B. is not quite certain that he can, with due regard to his dignity, take part in the reception of the coming Prince. He has the question under consideration, and will probably be prepared to give it a reply by the time he receives the invitation.

The Prince in the United States.

Our special correspondent informs us of the arrival of the Prince of Wales in Detroit. His Royal Highness has left the British dominions, and, for the first time, has entered the territory of the United States. His reception, of course, has been warm and enthusiastic. Though he cannot, by any possibility, have found fault with the Nova Scotian and Canadian ovations, he was well aware that their chief promoters—Governors, Mayors, Aldermen, and other Provincial officials—had expectations, more or less vague, of being rewarded for any extra devotion they might exhibit to the heir apparent of the British Crown. One or two possibly aspired to baronial honors; some sighed after inferior titles, and all were only exhibiting a natural loyalty to their future sovereign.

In the United States, however, the spontaneous welcome that the Prince will receive from a people untrammeled by conventionalities, and utterly indifferent to empty titles or high-born pedigree, must be doubly grateful to him. No one will dream of accusing our Western fellow-citizens of sycophancy, or of any unbecoming reverence for rank; and the intelligence which we this morning publish of the very cordial greeting extended to His Royal Highness in Detroit, is but an earnest of similar greetings awaiting him in all other American cities that he may choose to visit.

The presence of a Prince of Wales in the United States is an event of political importance as well as one of great international interest. England, in sending to our shores her future sovereign, tenders us a compliment that no European Government has tendered us before. The American people regard it in this light; and they accept the Prince's visit as evidence of a desire on his part, and on the part of the Government and people whom he represents, to draw more closely the bonds of friendship and of interest that unite the young Republic with the ancient Empire. We will do all honor to this Royal representative of a great, a kindred and a friendly nation. Our greeting will not be restrained by formalities, nor restricted to any unmeaning recognition of rank and position. We will give the Prince a hearty Republican welcome, such as no prince or monarch ever yet received from a Republican people. It will be a genuine tribute of respect for the public and private character of his illustrious mother, and for virtues, all his own, that have made him so popular in the neighboring Provinces. We hope and believe that the young Prince will interpret for himself the true meaning of American enthusiasm now enlisted in his favor—an enthusiasm, free and spontaneous, that the hereditary head of no other nation in the world could elicit. We hope and believe he will feel that an honor like this is far higher than any compliments and civilities which, hereafter, he may be called upon to accept from the Sovereign Houses of the Old World. Such a greeting as the Prince of Wales will receive in the United States is an evidence of the strong attachment and admiration for Old England and her free institutions that is felt by our people, and underlies all the bickerings and rivalries that have frequently drawn bitter comments from the Press of both countries and unfriendly remarks from their statesmen and orators. This visit will do much to clear away national misunderstanding. It is one of those events which tend more to obliterate animosities and jealousies than years of diplomatic intercourse and explanations. We trust that nothing will happen to mar its effect; and that the people of both countries will more clearly understand in the future that the "manifest destiny" of the two great Anglo-Saxon Empires is not antagonistic, but points to the accomplishment of the same high purposes—the extension of freedom and the spread of civilization.

The Tribune's Plea for Licentious Literature.—The Tribune some weeks since devoted four or five columns to a Justification of Adultery,—purporting to be written by an Adultress who was anxious to convince the world, that what society regarded as her crime was, in reality, the highest virtue. It was an adroit and seductive piece of sophistry, admirably calculated to confuse the minds of shallow thinkers, and to encourage persons just hovering on the brink of ruin to take the fatal plunge. The Tribune's excuse for publishing such a document was that it was a genuine production,—that it was the actual writing of the party concerned, and that its publication was, therefore, necessary as part of the news of the day.

Whatever might be the merit of this plea, it was effectually destroyed soon after by the discovery that the vindication was a forgery, that the woman concerned had put forth no such apology for her misconduct, and that it was either the adventure of an unprincipled speculator, or the attempt of a preacher of vice to sap the foundations of social and domestic morals. The Tribune accordingly changes its ground, and now insists that the genuineness of the document is a matter of no importance:

> "Whether Mary Gurney did or did not write the letter attributed to her (and it is by no means yet proved that she is not really its author), may be matter of consequence to her friends, but of very little to the general public. That letter truly and most forcibly embodied the considerations and arguments by which conduct such as hers has been justified from time immemorial, and will be to the end."

The Tribune thinks that the "cause of indissoluble marriage" can be vindicated by argument:—therefore it deems it desirable to spread before the world all the arguments by which it is assailed. The same reasoning would carry the Tribune much further. The cause of honesty can doubtless be sustained by argument:—therefore the Tribune should publish everything that professional scoundrels may say in support of theft. The cause of social decency,—the claims of virtue and purity can undoubtedly be established by appeals to sound reason:—therefore the Tribune may publish the details of everything done in the haunts of gilded vice, and familiarize the young with deeds and thoughts to which they are in danger of remaining strangers, in full confidence that a column or two of argument will drive it all out of their heads, and leave them as fully established in the faith as they were before.

In fact the Tribune's argument would justify the full and unrestricted freedom of licentious literature. If it is valid, all our laws against obscene and immoral books should be at once repealed, and the Tribune might very laudably devote its columns, after the Presidential election is over, to reprinting books which the police have seized, and to refuting their arguments and protesting against their influence in its editorials. Indeed, this is almost precisely what it has done in the present instance. A more skillful and ingenious appeal to all discontented wives, to obey the impulses of nature and fly to the arms of any one whom they happen to like better than their husbands, has seldom been made, than was embodied in this fabricated apology of Mary Gurney; and the Tribune's object in publishing it, it now appears, was not to present her individual case to the public, but to let the world see what could be said in justification of adultery and in vindication of an adultress. We doubt very much whether the world is to be made better, by becoming familiarized with the arguments and incentives to social crimes of this sort.

City Nominations.

The salutary uses of affliction are seldom so well illustrated as in the cotemporary history of Tammany. Had that rollicking and reckless Corporation, or Order, or Society, or whatever else in these days of dilapidation it may claim to be, enjoyed the full assurance of power and success which it possessed five years ago, there is no means of predicting the character of the nominations for City officers which it might have forced upon the party in this actual year of grace. Mr. Abraham Russell might have been once more City Judge, and Mr. Michael Connolly might have been made Recorder. We might have judicial officers as diligent as the present District-Attorney; we might have had Justices of the higher Courts as swift and impartial as—let us be retrospective, and say Scroggs or Jeffries.

But Tammany of to-day is in no position to stake its ventures upon such impolicy. It can no longer count upon the infallible efficacy of regularity and a compact organization. There is schism on all sides. The Breckinridge faction is already in the field with its ticket; Mozart Hall yet flushed with its victory in the election of Mayor Wood, is mustering for the contest; the Republicans have too keen an appreciation of their opportunity not to be especially fastidious in their nominations. The Constitutional Union Party has not yet decided whether to offer a straight ticket of their own, or in a spirit of prudent eclecticism, to take from each ticket its best names, and so insure their election.

Among these circumstances, the bad boys of Tammany are placed upon their good behavior, and we accordingly find their selections of a grade decidedly higher than the public has been in the habit of anticipating from that quarter. We would by no means have it understood that these nominations are generally commendable otherwise than by force of contrast with other preceding tickets. We are quite at a loss, for instance, to understand why Mr. Barnard should be selected for a seat upon the Bench of the Supreme Court, and Mr. McCunn's main recommendation as a candidate for City Judge lies in the fact that he displaces Russell, and prevents Connolly, who had labored for the post, from attaining a place for which he was conspicuously incompetent. But, in other respects, the nominations are respectable. Mr. West has filled the office of Surrogate with singular satisfaction to the public and to the Bar; and Mr. Hoffman, who is put forward as a candidate for the Recordership, is generally spoken of as possessed of ample qualifications, not only in his wide and thorough reading, but in the judicial characteristics which have not hitherto been conspicuous in that office.

These two names may be received in compensation for other defects; and substantiate the claim of Tammany to the merit of having at last elevated its standard of official qualification.

The prosperity of these nominations before the people is a very different matter. It is well understood that Mozart is to be in the field with nominations of its own, and the Union men are already busy in the discussion of a ticket. And had either of these parties entertained the thought of coalescing with Tammany, the action of Tammany would have rendered that course impracticable, for in its eagerness to sustain the mastery of the party machinery, it is well known that candidates are pledged to accept no support from other parties; in fact, a nomination of either of these gentlemen by other conventions will at once vacate their places upon the Tammany ticket. The inevitable result of this rigid policy will be not only the defeat of the ticket, as a whole, but it will give every prospect of success to the nominations of the Republicans, should they be judiciously framed.

City Credit Sported With.

The new 6 per cent. loans of the City of New York, it is quite notorious, do not command the premium to which the credit of a great and wealthy city is fairly entitled. The five per cents of Boston are much higher in the market, and time was, when, with a money market like the present, New York could have borrowed at the same rate with equal facility.

The reasons against it now would seem to be of bad government—not of questionable public faith or inadequate resources. Our debt is comparatively a moderate one, scarcely equal to two year's gross revenue, and the sinking fund of the old water debt is scrupulously administered and will unquestionably sink that important portion of the City's liabilities. Why then should a 6 per cent. new loan, having 18 years to run, be awarded at an average of less than 2 per cent. premium? Simply, we apprehend, because of Corporation robberies and corruption, and the almost criminal indifference of the people to the impunity with which they are so freely and shamelessly indulged at the City Hall.

The Japanese bill is a case in point. That stands adjourned only to await the first quiet moment in the discussion of its enormity through the Press, to be "put through" without abatement. The ousting of the City Chamberlain, and transfer of the City funds to a small and obscure bank presided over by his successor, is another striking instance of the manner in which the revenues of the Corporation are openly sported with. And while the insecure condition of the bank is being discussed on the highways, and among its associates in the Clearing-house, and the partisan and unavailable nature of some of its heaviest loans is in every business man's mouth around Wall-street, a loan for $3,000,000, the avails of which are to be, at least, temporarily lodged in the same depository, is submitted to the best bidder, and goes off, of course, at the smallest possible premium, at a rate of interest at least one per cent. a year dearer than ought to be paid by an imperial city like New-York. The lesson is one that should not be lost on the constituency of the Woods and Booles, who now rule the public roast; but judging from the indifference of the past, we much fear that it will be.

Ticket Swindlers and Judge Russell.

Among the various classes of scoundrels that infest this community, there are none who thrive so well and defy the law with such impunity as ticket swindlers. Their victims are generally strangers, who have no acquaintance with the means of redress which the law has placed in their reach, or who are not disposed to stop midway in their pilgrimage from Europe to the distant West, to make a complaint against the villains who cheat them, and suffer a two or three months' detention as witnesses in prosecutions, which, after all, most frequently result in the criminal's acquittal. Consequently the swindlers are very seldom brought to justice. In view of this fact, it is to be especially regretted that when the vigilance of officers results in the arraignment of any of this class of criminals before the legal tribunals, the Court itself should interfere in their behalf, and exercise a lenity in its treatment of them which no other prisoners experience, and which frequently goes to the length of nullifying the enacted penalties of the law.

The record of proceedings during the present week in the Court of General Sessions, furnishes a striking illustration of the distinguished consideration which ticket-swindlers may expect, in that tribunal at least, so long as the present City Judge remains upon the Bench. Last Wednesday, one Smethurst, notorious for his swindling operations upon unwary emigrants, who had just returned from a year's confinement, to which he had been sentenced for a similar offence, was brought to trial by the District-Attorney, on an indictment which had long been pending against him, for defrauding an emigrant, just returning to Ireland, of sixty dollars. The prisoner's counsel stated to the Court that a stipulation had been made between the prosecution and the prisoner, that, in consideration of the withdrawal of exceptions taken at a previous trial, and a consent to serve the sentence imposed, the present indictment should not be prosecuted, unless the defendant should renew his illegal pursuits. And though the District-Attorney informed the Court that the culprit had been reported by the police as renewing the offence, Judge Russell refused to try him upon that indictment. Upon this decision, the prosecuting officer, not to be thus easily balked, immediately proceeded to try the prisoner on a third indictment for the same offence, which had been found by the Grand Jury; and although he was strongly opposed at every point throughout the entire trial by both counsel and Court,—the latter virtually instructing the jury to acquit,—a verdict of guilty was rendered, with what practical effect remains to be seen.

Yesterday, in the same Court, the two prisoners, Gilbert and Ward, were brought to trial for the same offence. In the case of the former, the Court seemed indisposed to allow the jury to repeat their action in the Smethurst case, and therefore instructed them distinctly that the facts proved were not sufficient to convict, and threatened that a verdict not in accordance with this charge would be at once set aside. Of course the jury obeyed instructions and acquitted. The case of Ward next came up, when the prosecuting attorney, refusing to withdraw the prosecution at the request of the prisoner's counsel, the Court, of its own motion, declared that "then it would resort to its prerogative, and order the prisoner to be discharged from his recognizance."

Thus ended, in signal failure, the most commendable and strenuous efforts of the prosecuting officer, to second the equally laudable energy which had been displayed by the Police in arresting these robbers of strangers who have to pass through our City. During these trials the defendants' counsel was often in private consultation with the Judge on the bench, and at a recess which occurred in one of them, was closeted with him in his private room. When the Bench thus descends from its judicial dignity, to the partizanship of crime, and lends its moral influence to aid the criminal instead of the vindicator of public justice, it becomes high time that a change were wrought. We are happy to believe that the present incumbent of the City Criminal Bench will not much longer occupy his present position. It certainly cannot fall into worse hands. The public will, therefore, hail with pleasure any change, and the sooner it comes the better.

Making Assurance Doubly Sure.—It has for some time been conceded by men of divers parties, Democrats and Know-Nothings, Unionists and Disunionists, Fusionists and Confusionists, that the election of Mr. Lincoln to the Presidency was more than probable. The New-York Herald caps the climax of certainty on this important point, by revealing in its Washington correspondence of yesterday, the precise machinery by which the result has been made secure. It appears that two "powerful monied interests," the New Almaden Mining Company, of California, and the Central Railroad Company of New-York, have joined hands and purses for the purchase of M. Douglas, and have bound that statesman by the most awful oaths, and on the promise of immense advantages to his real estate in Chicago, to transfer all the votes which he controls in the Northern States to the Republican Candidate. In return for their outlay on this highly novel speculation, the Californian Company are to be rewarded by the removal of an injunction imposed by the United States Courts upon their property in California, and already, if we are to judge by the last reports from San Francisco, in train of abrogation by the same authority. What the advantages are which the astute Dean Richmond has secured for his share in the operation as representative of the Central Railroad of New-York, do not yet appear. But they probably include the destruction by the United States Army of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, and the filling up of the Erie Canal, with perhaps the decapitation of Governor Morgan. We believe there can be no doubt of the exact correctness of the Herald's information, so far as it goes, but we regret to add that it is incomplete. The sun, we are credibly assured, has in like manner secured the consent of the population of Maine to his rising several hours later in Winter than in Summer, by a pledge of all his influence to convert the Aroostook forests into a fine cotton-growing country. Let the South look to itself.

An Event worth Recording.—An unexpected incident occurred yesterday in connection with the City Government. Alderman Starr, Chairman of the Committee which visited Boston in June last to attend the Sanitary Convention, called upon the City Chamberlain and paid over to him the sum of $1,554 09—being the unexpended balance of $2,500 appropriated to payment of their expenses. The Committee were gone only three days,—but it has taken them three months to find out how much their journey cost. One swallow, it is true, does not make a Summer: but such a remarkable event as the repayment to the Treasury of money which once gets into the hands of members of the Common Council, certainly encourages us to hope that the era of honesty may at some time return.

Sale of Poisons.—Doctors are proverbially impracticable on all matters outside and on many within their own profession. The American Pharmaceutical Society, which has lately been in session in this City, discussed at length the danger of an indiscriminate sale of poisons. It is an important subject, and one that is already under the consideration of the New-York Sanitary Association, by whom, we hope, it will be practically treated.

There is, at the present moment, on our statute-book a law which, if properly executed, would prevent, as far as it is in the power of law to prevent, the careless sale of poisonous drugs. This act requires that the poison shall be properly labeled, and that it shall only be given under the prescription of a regularly authorized physician, or in the presence of a witness to the transaction. Beyond this it is impossible to go. A resolution passed by the Pharmaceutical Convention aims at a new law which would define who are "regularly authorized physicians," and would limit the sale of drugs generally to honest and trustworthy men. It is clearly impossible to attain such an end. If, for example, we were to permit the Academy of Medicine to dictate who were or were not "regular physicians," the number would be reduced to a very small clique, and nine-tenths of the community would pass to their graves without ever having seen or handled the prescriptions of any of the worthy fraternity. The man whom one person recognizes as a "regular physician," is denounced by his neighbor as a quack, and so on ad infinitum.

Any decent-looking person has the right, on his own responsibility, to purchase poisons at a drug-store. It is impossible by restricting their sale to prevent suicide. All that the law contemplates is to arrest and punish the criminal neglect of druggists who sell poisons to ignorant people and omit to label them. This has given rise to many a so-called accidental death, for which the author ought to be held responsible. All we need is that the law now on the statute book shall be faithfully executed, and that culpable carelessness in the sale of poisonous drugs shall meet with the certain punishment that it merits. When this is effected, legislation will have done all that it can do to protect life from being sacrificed by the indiscriminate sale of poisons.

The Late General Walker.

Without waiting for the particulars of the closing catastrophe to Gen. Walker's eventful career, we may assume that he died like a soldier in the truest sense of the term. His friends in this City attribute his fate to an unyielding moral courage and proud contempt of the consequences before him, which forbid the slightest approach to a petition, on his personal account, for leniency or mercy. Their present belief is, that he must have refused the mediation of the English commander on terms which, besides being a humiliating apology to the Honduran authorities, may have looked to the unconditional abandonment of his claim upon Nicaragua, and his aims, of every nature, upon that and all other of the Central American Governments. In other words, that he must have declined giving the parole which was probably demanded of him as the condition precedent to pardon or reprieve. They are quite sure that if there was aught in such demand, which implied, directly or remotely, personal humiliation or public disgrace, he did decline it, promptly and fearlessly, without the quiver of a muscle, or the superfluous or doubtful use of a single word; thus yielding up his life on a punctilio of honor as readily as he had often before risked it on the hazard of imminent and extraordinary dangers, voluntarily assumed, on other fields. Such was the man, and as such we have every reason to believe he died.

Gen. Walker terminated his career at a comparatively early age. We are told that he had but just attained his 36th year. He was born in Nashville, Tennessee, in May, 1824, and was thoroughly educated under the most favorable auspices for whatever liberal profession he might select in after life, first by a collegiate course at the University of Nashville, where he acquitted himself with the highest honors of his class, and afterwards in the Medical Schools of Philadelphia and Paris; enjoying, also, while in Europe, the advantages of a tour through Germany and Italy, where his opportunities for Belles-lettres scholarship were not only liberal, but keenly enjoyed and appreciated by a mind then, at least, quiet and studious to a degree that utterly forbid the idea of an adventurous or restless career in later life. His distaste, however, to the medical profession, which he declined practically to enter upon, turned him to the law, and the associations of the law, not unnaturally to politics, in which he first engaged in New Orleans, and subsequently, in 1850–51, in California, from which point he entered upon the hazardous career which, after the varied fortune of six years, is now terminated.

Whatever hard things may have been said of Gen. Walker—and much, we doubt not, would have been left unsaid had his fortune been more propitious—he was, at least, no vulgar adventurer, either by birth, habits or education, or the honorable purposes with which he set out in life. His parentage was unsullied; his private walk and temperance unquestioned; his learning profound, and his original aims, however subsequently misdirected by an unchastened ambition, such as commended him to success, while enlisting the warm esteem of numerous friends. Even those who deny him all claims to military skill or political sagacity as a leader, pay the highest compliment to his moral force and personal integrity, since without these his first failure as an adventurer must inevitably have been his last.

Col. Rudler.—Very little seems to be known of Col. Rudler, who was shot with Walker in Honduras. He was a native of Alabama and served with credit in the Mexican War as an officer of the Louisiana Regiment. In 1849 he went to California and was at one time Deputy-Marshal of the City of Stockton. He was an active Whig during tha Presidential canvass of 1852, and was nominated by that party for the office of Sheriff of San Joaquin County in 1854, but was defeated. In 1855 he disposed of his property there and joined Walker in Nicaragua. He had a profound regard and esteem for Walker, and has shared in all his expeditions, and finally participated in his fate. He was regarded as a brave, honorable and generous gentleman, and enjoyed the respect of all who knew him.

Amusements.

Winter Garden.—The benefit of Mrs. Barney Williams, of course, drew a crowded house last night, as it would have done without the attraction of a new play. The new play cannot be called a success, and the management will probably resort, in the ensuing week, to something more attractive. Its title is "Phelim O'Donnell, or the Leprechaun," of which we will only say that it was sufficiently attractive to retain the attention of the audience, without eliciting their applause. Mr. Barney Williams and Mr. Davidge did all they could for it; but, notwithstanding, it is a piece that is doomed to early death. Happily for Mr. Williams, his fame does not rest on the success of such an ill-conceived and misconstructed play. The other performances were "The Customs of the Country" and "Bryan O'Linn," which brought forth Mr. and Mrs. Williams in all their perfection. In their old and favorite characters they are inimitable, but the "Leprechaun" is not suitable to the abilities of Mr. Williams, and Mrs. Williams, very wisely, does not take part therein. They will play during the next week, we trust, in their renowned and unexcelled parts.

BERMUDA AND THE WEST INDIES.

Disappointment Rife in the Bermudas at the News that the Prince of Wales was not Going There—Fine Weather—The West India Mail—Late News from Barbados, Jamaica, Demerara, St. Vincent, Antigua and Trinidad.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

BERMUDA, Tuesday, Sept. 11, 1860.

The colony is in a state of depression. It is, in fact, laboring under a fit of the "blues," induced by intense disappointment. We had all plumed ourselves upon seeing "the Prince in his beauty," and hoped to show His Royal Highness not only all the curiosities of the islands

"Where Ariel has warbled and Waller has strayed," but also to impress him with the conviction that we are a loyal people, feeling proud to be under the rule of such a Sovereign as her gracious Majesty Queen VICTORIA. But matters of State have debarred us this pleasure, and we strive to bow cheerfully.

The weather has become quite cool and bracing. Northeasterly and Northerly breezes have been prevailing for more than a week past.

The West India Mail steamer arrived three days ago, bringing the usual mails from the windward and leeward colonies. I proceed to give you all the news which the papers supply.

Barbados dates are to the 25th ult. The intense and very protracted drought which had prevailed all over the island, has at length been dispelled. Rain has fallen in every parish most bounteously. The ponds, which were perfectly dried up, are now overflowing with water, and the springs are gushing forth with crystal streams. The young crop of canes is said to be quite restored to vigor, and the hopes of the planters are accordingly very buoyant. The markets continue to be well supplied with American provisions. Building operations in the "old" burnt district were going in, and stone houses, instead of wooden ones, were going up. In the "new" burnt district nothing was doing. The Legislature had voted £32,000 for the erection of suitable public buildings. The export of sugar, of this year's crop, had reached 42,360 hogsheads. The island was quite healthy, and the people are said to be industrious and contented.

Jamaica dates are to the 24th ult. The general election was over, and both parties, as usual, claim a majority; but the most careful summing-up seems to give the Government a safe working majority. The question of awarding the contract for carrying on steam communication between Jamaica and New-York, has at length been decided in favor of Mr. HOLT of Liverpool. Some parties petitioned the Governor against this decision, but His Excellency sent a reply informing them that they had been misinformed as to the real nature of Mr. HOLT's contract. The Governor, at the same time, stated that, owing to the sum granted, it was found impracticable to connect with the steamers of Panama. Chief Justice KER, of Dominica, has been appointed to a vacant Judgeship in Jamaica with £1,000 a year. The island was generally healthy, but the weather was close and oppressive. The Kingston market was quite dull; leading American provisions, such as Flour, Meal, Pork, Butter, &c., hung heavily on the hands of holders. Sugar was offering at 17s.@20s. ℔ 100 lbs.

Demerara dates are to the 22d ult. There is very little news from that colony. The Court of Policy is considering a project for importing the colored inhabitants of Canada into Demerara. A letter was read from a Mr. HACKETT, showing there were 60,000 of these people in a deplorable condition in Canada, who are regarded with aversion by the whites, and who would be glad to go over to British Guiana. More immigrants from Madeira had arrived, and the colony was very flourishing.

Antigua dates are to the 23d ult. The only news thence is akin to the welcome accounts from Barbados, that the long drought had ended, and "water, honest water," was abundant all over the island.

At St. Vincent, the "hitch" arising out of the vote of want of confidence in the Governor's advisers had been got over by new appointments.

Trinidad dates are not later than the middle of August. The acting Governor, Mr. WALKER, (lately Colonial Secretary of Barbados,) was to receive the full appointment of Governor of the Bahama Islands, in the room of Mr. BAYLEY. The forests were to be examined, by official order, to ascertain if they do not contain woods suitable for building operations and the Royal Navy. Yours truly, ***

THE EQUINOXIAL ON THE GULF.

Particulars of the Storm at Mobile—Overflow of the Streets—Damage Sustained by the Shipping, &c.

From the Mobile Register, of Sunday.

For several days past the wind has been from the North, but a succession of high tides has given evidence that winds were prevailing off the coast. Friday night, shortly before 10 o'clock, a rain commenced, which gradually increased during the night. The wind, which at first was northerly, gradually worked round to the East and Southeast, and at the time we write (12 o'clock) it has been blowing furiously since an early hour of the morning, the rain continuing with increasing strength. The water has risen beyond the corner of Dauphin and Water streets, and our merchants are busy securing their goods. All the wharves except that at the foot of Dauphin-street are under water, and the water still rising. The wind at present is more southerly, but shifting.

We have not heard of any actual damage from the wind so far, but apprehensions are entertained for the north wall of the new theatre, the heavy derrick, used for hoisting materials, having fallen against it, causing it to project sensibly from a perpendicular.

One o'clock.—Several steamboats are now on the wharves, and men are amusing themselves with swimming in Water-street. The water covers the sidewalks on an average about half way between Water and Royal streets.

About 11 o'clock the easterly gable of the guardhouse fell down, to the high gratification of some of the prisoners, who hailed it as an interposition of heaven on their behalf.

At 1½ o'clock the wind had veered to west of south and was considerably abated. The wind, too, had nearly ceased.

Among the disastrous effects of the storm is one which we regret being obliged to chronicle, as we have enjoyed more than one pleasant trip on board of the yacht Pastime. She started out on a pleasure trip day before yesterday, and was struck by a severe squall about two miles from land. In trying to come up into the wind, she ran against a snag and stove a large hole in her bottom. Two of the party left the boat and came up to the city on one of the hatches for assistance; the others remaining from 10 o'clock until 8 next morning, with the water washing over them throughout the night. Fortunately no one was lost, which, we understand, is due to the coolness and energy of the sailor in charge. We would give his name, but have been unable to learn it. Both the Crescent and Junior came in from Point Clear and Hollywood, but up to the time of their leaving the fury of the storm had not been felt. The mail-boat from New-Orleans is still out, but the probability is she anchored under some lee shore for protection. No boats left here for the Bay or river. It is impossible to estimate what the loss will be. We learn from reliable authority that every merchant from Water-street down to the river has sustained a more or less damage.

Business throughout the day was entirely suspended. Not a bale of cotton was sold or a single commercial transaction has been effected. In fact our citizens devoted themselves wholly to the laborious work of saving their property; and those whose interests were not imperiled nobly came to the rescue of their less fortunate neighbors.

There was a large arrival of cotton on the wharves and in warehouses, which was seriously damaged by the water.

The steamer Baltic, lying across the river, caught fire about 2 o'clock. The fire was put out by the hands on board, and but little damage was done.

It is rumored and feared that the steamer St. Nicholas, of Messrs. COX, BRAINARD & Co., is lost, or seriously damaged. She is said to be blown up on one of the wharves near HITCHCOCK's Press.

The steamer John Briggs, owned by Mr. COX, lying at the Marine Ways, was blown across the river, and is now four hundred yards from the bank of the river. Everything above her boiler deck—chimneys, cabin, &c.—is gone, and nothing except the machinery will be saved, which will cost as much as it is worth to save it. The boat had been recently repaired.

The steamer Waverley, owned by the Messrs. MEANERS, was also blown from the Ways across into marsh, just above one mile creek, with her chimneys down and upper works gone. She will probably be gotten off with but little damage.

The steamer Warrior, Capt. H. R. JOHNSON, lying at one of the upper wharves, lost one of her chimneys, and sustains a damage of about $1,200.

We also learn that the salt barge of Mr. M. WARING, at the foot of Government-street, capsized and threw into the river about 4,000 sacks of salt.

The loss in the warehouses is said to be about 30,000 sacks.

The walls of the new warehouse on Eslava, from Royal to Water streets, are blown down.

The walls of the new theatre, which were injured by the late storm, have sustained no material damage.

The wharves are injured very much. All articles of merchandise on them, the wood at the woodyards, the lumber and saw-logs at the mills, have been swept away, and a very serious loss of promiscuous articles has been sustained, the exact amount of which we cannot learn or now approximate.

To add to the horrors of the day, at about 2 o'clock the fire-bell rang out a call for the department to subdue a fire on the south side of Government-street, just below Royal. Fortunately, however, little or no damage was done.

Again, between 3 and 4 o'clock, the alarm of fire was sounded, and it was soon ascertained that the warehouse of Messrs. POMEROY & MARSHALL, in which a large amount of lime was stored, was on fire. Being surrounded on all sides by water to the depth of several feet, it was impossible to approach the building, and the fire had to take its course. We also learn that the fire communicated itself to GOODMAN's warehouse, in which there was some 3,000 bales of cotton, all of which was destroyed. By this time the water had sufficiently receded to enable the fire-engines to approach the scene, but the drift and other impediments rendered their labors in a great measure abortive.

In the city warehouse the south wall was blown down and several bales of cotton burned.

KETCHUM's warehouse had a large part of the east wall blown down, and the north gable end fell in.

The water was deep, but notwithstanding it and other obstructions, every one of the fire companies "plunged in," and up to the men's waists, worked the machines and labored like Trojans in their contention with the Fire King. We do not remember ever before to have seen men labor with such zeal and devoted determination. The damage done is great, but we did not learn to what amount, or as to insurance. In the absence of facts it is idle to guess, but we hope that matters are exaggerated, and that the actual loss will be far below the minimum of supposition.

The railroad track being submerged, of course the Mississippi passenger train failed to arrive—neither could the Citronelle train go up last evening. We have every reason to believe that the track has not been injured, and that by the time this meets the eye of the reader that the former trains will have arrived, and that all needful arrangements will be made to have everything in running order by Monday morning. The freight was all put on the platform cars, and is not damaged. The cotton, however, was all wet.

Towards night the wind veered to the southward and in a manner lulled, but the rain still continues to pour down in torrents. One year ago to-day, Sept. 15, our city was visited by a similar storm. One singularity about these storms is the total absence of lightning and thunder, while it rains incessantly.

It is feared that a good deal of damage has been done to the shipping in the lower bay and along the coast. Many vessels are expected at this season from Northern ports. We shall wait intelligence in hope and suspense.

West Washington Market.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

It is stated in a paragraph relating to West Washington Market, in a City paper of this morning, that it is believed they (TAYLOR and BRENNAN) will let the matter drop. I don't know who believes it. I certainly do not, for I never felt greater confidence (and in that my counsel concur) in the justice of my cause than I do now. The judgments were twice set aside on pretended technical grounds alone, which have been appealed from. I am ready to try the causes on short notice at any time, before any Judge of the Supreme Court who has not prejudged the cause. And as to the title to this property I doubt if any counsel of standing in this community believes it to be in the City. I shall have much to say on this subject in the course of a few days. In the meantime, my complaint having been amended, claiming $1,500,000 for back rents, I shall lose no time in pushing the cause to a speedy decision.

JAMES B. TAYLOR.

FIRE IN NEWARK.—A brick building one story high, 125x40 feet, corner of Belmont-avenue and Kinney-street, in the Sixth District, was destroyed by fire at 4 o'clock this morning. It was owned and occupied by Messrs. HALSEY & TUCKER as a japanery, and contained a considerable quantity of stock, most of which was destroyed. The origin of the fire is unknown, and is supposed to be accidental. The loss is about $5,000 on the stock and $2,500 on the building; insured for $1,000 on the stock and $1,700 on the building and fixtures.—Daily Adv., yesterday.

Extension of Mr. Howe's Patent.—There are now in use in the United States over 100,000 Sewing-Machines, making the Grover & Baker stitch. As this stitch is superior to all others for family use, it must soon supersede all others in the family. Within ten years there will be, at a moderate calculation, 600,000 of these machines alone in use in this country; if each saves 25 cents per day, the annual saving to the country will then be $47,000,000. As this saving will be made by only one kind of machine, (although it is not denied it is much the best kind,) add a proper proportion for the less valuable machines, and then consider that Mr. Howe's invention is the basis and foundation of them all, and who can deny the propriety of the extension of Mr. Howe's patent?

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For the speedy cure of Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache, or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fevers, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in Biliary derangement, caused by the malaria of miasmatic countries.

No one remedy is louder called for by the necessities of the American people than a sure and safe cure for Fever and Ague. Such we are now enabled to offer, with a perfect certainty that it will eradicate the disease, and with assurance, founded on proof, that no harm can arise from its use in any quantity.

That which protects from, or prevents this disorder, must be of immense service in the communities where it prevails. Prevention is better than cure, for the patient escapes the risk which he must run in violent attacks of this baleful distemper. This "cure" expels the miasmic poison of fever and ague from the system, and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever yet discovered for this class of complaints, but also the cheapest. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it within the reach of everybody; and in bilious districts, where fever and ague prevails, everybody should have it and use it freely both for cure and prevention. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of intermittents is, that it contains no quinine or mineral, consequently it produces no quinism or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease.

Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, among which are neuralgia, rheumatism, gout, headache, blindness, toothache, earache, catarrh, asthma, palpitation, painful affection of the spleen, hysterics, pain in the bowels, colic, paralysis and derangement of the stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "Cure" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, and sold by all Druggists, everywhere.

DON'T BELIEVE IT.

Don't believe it, if people tell you the HOUSEHOLD JOURNAL has burst up, because the run for it was too great yesterday for it to stand. Although it is quite true that all the news agents run out, by so great a rush, as soon as 12 o'clock noon, yet we had another delivery soon in their hands, and being fast at work, are prepared to meet all demands, both now and in all time coming.

WHAT DO THE PEOPLE SAY?

They don't understand how a periodical so well printed, on such good paper, and containing so much excellent reading matter and good music as the HOUSEHOLD JOURNAL exhibits, can be sold for Three Cents per copy.

WHAT DO THE PRINTERS SAY?

That the typography and general getting up of the HOUSEHOLD JOURNAL is bad to beat—some of the best Typos even going the length of saying, it is the best thing of the kind ever issued from the Press of the City.

WHAT DO THE KNOWING ONES SAY?

"Oh! it's all very fine; we all know what first numbers are. Wait till we see what the next numbers of the HOUSEHOLD JOURNAL are." Gentlemen, we don't fire our heaviest guns first. Our motto is "Excelsior." See Number 2 next week, with five shillings' worth of music in it, for Three Cents, besides other good things.

THE UNIVERSAL VERDICT

Of all who have had an opportunity of seeing it, is, that the HOUSEHOLD JOURNAL contains the greatest variety of excellent matter, is the handsomest, best printed and cheapest periodical ever issued from the Press of New-York. Published at Three Cents weekly.

UNEQUALED IN THE WORLD.

The above are great words—but we ask every unprejudiced person to look into the merits of the HOUSEHOLD JOURNAL, and say whether for variety, excellence and cheapness, it is not so. Published every week at Three Cents per copy.

HOW IT HAS BEEN DONE.

NEW BOOKS.

ALEXANDRE DUMAS' GREATEST BOOK.
SUPERIOR TO "COUNT OF MONTE CRISTO."
Published this day, and for sale by all booksellers.

T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS, No. 306 Chestnut-st., Philadelphia, publish this day Alexandre Dumas the younger's greatest novel, entitled

CAMILLE; OR,
THE CAMELLIA LADY.
"La Dame aux Camellias."
THE ONLY TRUE, COMPLETE, AND ORIGINAL TRANSLATION,
From which have been adapted for the stage the drama of "Camille," and the opera of "La Traviata."
Translated literally from the French of
ALEXANDRE DUMAS THE YOUNGER.

Complete in 1 large duodecimo volume, bound in cloth, for $1 25, or in 2 volumes, paper cover, for $1.

Please read the prefatory notice, written by the distinguished French critic, Jules Janin, commencing on page seven of the work.

Read the following, by the Literary Editor of the Philadelphia Sunday Dispatch.

This is a translation long needed of an intensely absorbing volume, which has excited more attention and interested more readers than perhaps any novel of the modern French school. It seems astonishing that the clever effort of the younger Dumas has not appeared in a good English dress long before this, as there have been no adaptations for the stage so thoroughly successful as the Drama of "Camille," and the Opera of "La Traviata," which are founded directly on the story. It may not be known to all our readers that the original of Marguerite Gautier, the Camelia-Lady, was an actual, living individuality, whose real name was Mlle. Marie Duplessis. Some ten years ago she was a sparkling French beauty, who, in the Parisian world of fashion, wielded the fascinating powers of a Ninon de l'Enclos and a De Stael combined, and whose brilliant career and melancholy fate created an unusual sensation, even in that ever-excited metropolis. As matters of general literary interest, we would refer the reader to the prefatory notices in the work, which serve as an introduction to the American edition. The notice by Jules Janin, the distinguished critic, is of itself a sufficient indorsement to command for the work a wide and extensive circulation.

From the Editorial column of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

DUMAS THE YOUNGER'S "CAMILLE, OR THE CAMELIA LADY."—The most remarkable, original and successful story of this generation is that of "La Dame aux Camelias," by ALEXANDRE DUMAS, the younger. First written as a novel, and then altered to a play, it had an enormous success at Paris. Translated into every European language, it has made the tour of Europe and America with equal success. In our theatres, as "Camille," it has made thousands laugh and weep by turns, and in all the opera-houses of the world it has charmed other thousands as "La Traviata." It is founded on the actual history of Marguerite Gautier, a fallen woman of Paris, of great celebrity. Many translations of the original novel have appeared, but none are so faithful and good as that just published by T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS, of this city. However we may condemn the character of the heroine, or question the tendency of such histories as hers, no one can deny that the story is a great one, and the present handsome and correct edition will make a fresh and large demand for the work.

Booksellers, News Agents and all others will please send on their orders at once for what they may want of either of the above editions, both of which will prove to be of great popularity, and command large sales.

Copies of the above book will be sent to any one, to any place, at once, free of postage, on remitting the price to the publishers.

Address all orders to the publishers,
T. B. PETERSON & BROTHERS,
No 306 Chestnut-st., Philadelphia, Penn.
For sale by all booksellers everywhere.

HARPER & BROTHERS,

PUBLISH THIS DAY:

I.
WHEAT AND TARES.
A NOVEL.
12mo, Muslin, 75 cents.

"'Wheat and Tares' is a brilliant story of English Middle Class Home Life. The characters are firmly sketched and distinctly individualized; the interest is sustained from the beginning, and the anonymous author displays a quaint wit and a racy humor, united to vigorous thought, which remind the reader now of Charles Kingsley, and now of the author of 'Guy Livingstone.'"

II.
FARADAY ON THE PHYSICAL FORCES.
A COURSE OF SIX LECTURES ON THE VARIOUS FORCES OF MATTER, AND THEIR RELATIONS TO EACH OTHER.
BY MICHAEL FARADAY, D.C.L., F.R.S.,
Fullerian Professor of Chemistry, Royal Institution.
(Delivered before a Juvenile Auditory at the Royal Institution of Great Britain, during the Christmas Holidays of 1859-60.)
Edited by WILLIAM CROOKES, F.C.S.
With numerous Illustrations.
12mo, Muslin, 50 cents.

Michael Faraday, the son of a poor blacksmith, was in early life apprenticed to a book-binder, and worked at that trade until he reached his 22d year; he now holds the very first rank as a philosopher, excelling even his master, Sir Humphrey Davy, in the art of lucidly expounding the most difficult and abstruse points in Natural Science.—Self-Help, by SMILES.

"The Lectures here printed were first delivered in London during the Christmas holidays of 1859-60 to a delighted audience, composed chiefly of children and youth. Those who heard them spoken were surprised at the remarkable simplicity of language with which Professor Faraday laid his problems open to the understandings of his auditory, and the wonderful interest he threw around subjects mostly considered, even by grown persons, as of the dryest. The Lectures were, in fact, a great success, and prove as charmingly interesting now in print as when spoken. A better text-book for young students of Natural Science it would be difficult to find; for it is as clear as crystal, and as interesting as a story out of the Arabian Nights."

LANDS ON THE HUDSON RIVER AT AUCTION.—Will be sold at public auction, at Mooney's Hotel, Bull's Ferry, N. J., on SATURDAY, the 22d day of September instant, at 12 o'clock, noon, the farm formerly of Catharine C. Young, deceased situate on the west side of the Hudson River, between Bull's Ferry and Fort Lee, about one mile north of Bull's Ferry.

The homestead lot contains about thirty acres, and is eligibly situated on the Hudson River, with a front of [illegible] feet on the river, and forms a parallelogram nearly rectangular of about 1,700 feet deep. It is directly opposite 1[illegible]th-st., in the City of New-York. The extension of the Hudson River Turnpike passes along the front. It is about six miles distant from the Hoboken ferry, and about 2¼ miles from the 42d-st. or Weehawken ferry, connected with both by the Hudson River Turnpike, one of the finest drives in the vicinity of New-York. Nearly one-fourth of the land lies below the hill along the river, sloping finely towards the Hudson. The residue is elevated, and commands extensive views of the Hudson, and over Manhattan Island, Long Island and Connecticut. Its south side adjoins the residence of John Van Wart, Esq.

Also, a wood lot of seven acres, on the hill, about sixty chains from the Hudson River, adjoining lands of Barent De Klyne, deceased.

A map of the property may be seen at my office.

MUSICAL.

STEINWAY & SONS'
GOLD MEDAL
PATENT OVERSTRUNG GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS
Are now considered the best Pianos manufactured.

These instruments have taken sixteen first premiums, gold and silver medals, within the last four years, in competition with pianos of the best makers of New-York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Among the judges were Gottschalk, Wm. Mason, H. A. Wollenhaupt, and other musical celebrities.

S. & SONS do not refer to artists who were in this country many years ago, or to certificates and testimonials given a long time since, as it is a well-known fact that such important improvements have been made in pianos quite recently, that many makers whose instruments were justly considered to rank among the best years ago cannot by any means claim the same positions at the present time.

We subjoin the following certificates, given within the last six months, by nearly all the leading and most prominent artists and musicians residing in this country:

"The undersigned, having personally examined and practically tested the improvements in Grand Pianos, invented by H. STEINWAY, in which the covered strings are overstrung above those remaining, do hereby certify:

1. That, as the result of the said improvement, the voice of the piano is greatly improved in quality, quantity and power.

2. The sound of STEINWAY'S improvement is much more even, less harsh, stronger and much better prolonged than that realized in any other piano with which we are acquainted.

3. The undersigned regard the improvement of Mr. STEINWAY as most novel, ingenious and important. No piano of similar construction has ever been known or used, so far as the undersigned know or believe.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF NEW-YORK.—James Brown and [illegible] C. Bancroft Davis, Trustees, and another, plaintiffs, against the New-York and Erie Railroad Company and Joseph Walker, Uriah J. Smith and William T. Hooker, Trustees, defendants. Fifth mortgage suit.—Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, as Referee, and pursuant to a final judgment of foreclosure and sale, entered in said suit (known as the fifth mortgage foreclosure suit) on the 9th day of June, 1860, will, on the twentieth day of November, 1860, at 12 o'clock, noon, on that day, at the Merchants' Exchange, in the City of New-York, (and through A. J. Bleecker, auctioneer,) sell at public auction, the real and personal property, rights and franchises directed by said judgment to be sold, and which are therein described and referred to as follows:

All and singular, the Railroad of the said New-York and Erie Railroad Company, and now in the possession of the Receiver, from and including Piermont on the Hudson River, to and including the final terminus of said Railroad on Lake Erie, and that part of said road known as the Newburgh Branch, from Newburgh to the main line, together with the lands, tracks, lines, rails, bridges, ways, buildings, piers and wharves, erections, fences, walls, fixtures, privileges, franchises, rights, and all the real estate and leasehold property which were of said Company, of every kind, in the States of New-York, Pennsylvania and New-Jersey, on the 1st day of June, A. D. 1858, and all the tolls, incomes, issues and profits to be had from the same, and all rights to receive or recover the same, and all railway stations and dépôts, with the appurtenances necessary for the complete use of the road. Also, all the locomotives, engines, tenders, cars, carriages, tools and machinery belonging or appertaining to said Railroad. Also, all the estate, right and property, terms and remainders of terms, franchises and privileges, and rights of action of whatsoever name or nature in law or in equity, conveyed or assigned unto the New-York and Erie Railroad Company by the Union Railroad Company, by an indenture bearing date Sept. 10, 1852, being the Railroad of the Union Railroad Company, as it then existed, and all the land and real property forming or connected with or appurtenant thereto, and all the rails, tracks, bridges, culverts, viaducts, turn-outs, switches, fixtures and superstructures of every kind connected therewith; and all their buildings, erections, dépôts, stations, station-houses, offices, factory shops and edifices on or adjacent to or connected with or appurtenant to said road; and all the estate, right, title, interest, possession and demand of the said Union Railroad Company of and to the premises, and every part and parcel thereof, the rights, privileges, franchises, titles, power and properties of the said Union Railroad Company, with the right to transport persons, mails and property over said Union Railroad, and charge, demand, collect and receive tolls for the transportation of persons, mails and merchandise, and other estates and rights, all of which are fully described in said indenture. Also, an indenture of lease, bearing date the 9th day of September, A. D. 1852, made by and between the President and Directors of the Paterson and Hudson River Railroad Company and the Union Railroad Company; and also an indenture of lease, bearing date the 9th day of September, A. D. 1852, made between the Paterson and Ramapo Railroad Company and the Union Railroad Company, together with all and singular the premises therein mentioned and described, and the buildings thereon, and the property, real and personal, with the appurtenances, in the said two indentures, and each of them, demised, conveyed and transferred for and during all the rest, residue and remainder then to come, of and in the terms respectively mentioned in the said indenture of lease, subject to the conditions, rents, covenants, provisions and agreements in the said indentures respectively contained. Also, all the estate, rights, interest, title and property, in law and equity, of the New-York and Erie Railroad Company, or in the possession of the Receiver under the fifth mortgage, in and to every matter and thing, estate and property, terms and remainders of terms, franchises, privileges and appurtenances of whatsoever name and nature, conveyed by the several aforesaid indentures of lease to the Union Railroad Company, or any of them; being:

1st. An indenture made on or about the 9th day of September, A. D., 1852, between the President and Directors of the Paterson and Hudson River Railroad Company, of the State of New-Jersey, parties of the first part, and the Union Railroad Company, parties of the second part, whereby the railroad of the President and Directors of the Paterson and Hudson River Railroad Company, as it then existed, with all the land and real property forming, or connected with, or appurtenant thereto, from and including its terminus and station at and in the City of Paterson and County of Passaic and State of New-Jersey, to and including its terminus and station at and on Bergen Hill, in the County of Hudson and State of New-Jersey, at the junction of the railroad of the New-Jersey Railroad and Transportation Company, and its rails, bridges, culverts, viaducts, turn-outs, switches, fixtures and superstructures, on, adjacent to, connected with or appurtenant thereto, and all its buildings, erections, dépôts, stations, station-houses, offices, shops and superstructures on or adjacent to the said road, and all the estate, right, title, claim and demand of the said Paterson and Hudson River Railroad Company of, in and to the same, and every part and parcel thereof, and all its rights, privileges, franchises, titles, power, property and claim and tolls and right to receive the same, and all its cars, engines, tolls, and all its rights and pretensions to charge, demand, collect and receive tolls for the transportation of property, persons and merchandize, were granted, bargained, sold, demised and to farm let unto the same Union Railroad Company, their successors and assigns, for and during the continuance of the charter of the said the President and Directors of the Paterson and Hudson River Railroad Company, with covenants for renewal, and certain agreements and covenants, by the New-Jersey Railroad and Transportation Company, were, by the same instrument, assigned to the said Union Railroad Company, as will more fully appear by reference to said last named indenture, upon certain terms therein more fully set forth, which said lease was, on or about the 10th day of September, A. D. 1852, assigned by the said Union Railroad Company to the said the New-York and Erie Railroad Company, with the assent of the said President and Directors of the Paterson and Hudson River Railroad Company.

2d. Another indenture entered into on or about the 9th day of September, A. D., 1852, whereby the said the President and Directors of the Paterson and Hudson River Railroad Company made certain agreements with the said Union Railroad Company for laying down a third rail upon the road-bed of the New-Jersey Railroad and Transportation Company, for the use of the New-York and Erie Railroad Company, as will more fully appear by reference thereto, which said last-named indenture was assigned to the New-York and Erie Railroad Company by the Union Railroad Company, with the assent of the said the President and Directors of the Paterson and Hudson River Railroad Company.

3d. A certain other indenture, made on or about the 9th day of September, 1852, for certain considerations and on certain terms therein fully set forth, whereby the said Paterson and Hudson River Railroad Company granted, bargained, sold and demised, and to farm let, unto the said Union Railroad Company, their successors and assigns, all and singular the dépôts, lands and real estate of the said the President and Directors of the Paterson and Hudson River Railroad Company, in Jersey City, with the appurtenances, for the term of two years from September 15, 1852, with covenants for renewal, which said lease was afterwards assigned to the said New-York and Erie Railroad Company, with the assent of the said the President and Directors of the Paterson and Hudson River Railroad Company, and hath since been renewed.

4th. A certain other indenture, made on or about the ninth day of September, A. D. 1852, between the Paterson and Ramapo Railroad Company, of the State of New-Jersey, of the first part, and the said Union Railroad Company, parties of the second part, whereby the said Paterson and Ramapo Railroad Company granted, bargained, sold, demised, and to farm let unto the said Union Railroad Company, their successors and assigns, for and during the continuance of the charter of the said the Paterson and Ramapo Railroad Company, with covenants for renewal—the railroad of the said lessors, and all the land or real property forming or connected therewith, or appurtenant thereto, and their rails, tracks, bridges, culverts, viaducts, turn-outs, switches, fixtures and superstructures on, adjacent to, connected with, or appurtenant to their said road; and all their buildings, erections, dépôts, station-houses, stations, offices, factories, shops and edifices on or adjacent to, or connected with or appurtenant to the said road; and all the right, title, interest, claim and demand of the said Paterson and Ramapo Railroad Company of, in and to the same, and all their rights, claims, privileges, franchises, titles, powers, property, claim and pretensions to transport persons, mails, and property of every description. Also, all the improvements made by the said New-York and Erie Railroad Company to any or all of said properties or estates; also, the dépôt grounds upon the lands of the Long Dock Company, being all the lands of the said Long Dock Company which lie east of Provost-st., in Jersey City, and north of a line drawn along the centre of Pavonia-av., from Provost-st. to the east of Hudson-st., and of a line sixty feet south of and parallel to the centre of Pavonia-av., on the east of the east side of Hudson-st., and the rights which the New-York and Erie Railroad Company have, or hereafter may have or acquire, or which are in the possession of the receiver under the fifth mortgage, in the piers or wharves to be constructed north of Pavonia-av., upon or against the lands of the said Long Dock Company, and in any ferries which may be maintained therefrom to the City of New-York; also, the right forever to use the road-bed, tracks, sidings, turn-outs and switches, to be constructed from the present line of the New-York and Erie Railroad, unto the said dépôt on the lands of the Long Dock Company, (but no other lands of the Long Dock Company are included in the sale, nor is the fee in the said road-bed or track included, it being provided by the mortgage that all the lands of the Long Dock Company not therein specially included, shall be unincumbered thereby, and that the lands over the tunnel through which the track is laid shall also be unincumbered, except as to the right to maintain and use such track.) Also, a certain agreement made between the Long Dock Company and the New-York and Erie Railroad Company, by indenture, dated July 1st, 1856, relative to the construction of docks, piers, wharves, railway tracks, cuts, tunnels, switches, dépôts, storehouses and other structures, buildings and machinery upon the land of the Long Dock Company. Also, all and singular all the estate, fixtures, privileges, franchises, easements, rights, leases, terms and parts of terms, agreements, covenants and property of every kind, conveyed to or intended to be conveyed to James Brown and J. C. Bancroft Davis, by an indenture, dated August 15, 1857, together with all property and estate of every kind, on the 1st day of June, 1858, by the New-York and Erie Railroad Company, possessed or thereafter to be acquired by them.

Also, all and singular all the estate, fixtures, privileges, franchises, easements, rights, leases, terms and parts of terms, agreements, covenants and property of every kind conveyed or intended to be conveyed by the said indenture, dated August 15, 1857, unto the said Brown and Davis, together with all property and estate of every kind, on the 12th day of August, 1859, possessed or thereafter to be acquired by the said New-York and Erie Railroad Company, and also all the property, choses in action, rents, profits and income conveyed or intended to be conveyed or mortgaged by the mortgage made by said Company to said Brown and Davis, dated June 1, 1858.

Also, all the personal property and chattels belonging to the said The New-York and Erie Railroad Company, or in the possession of the receiver, under the fifth mortgage, including the following, namely: 162 passenger cars, (first-class,) numbered 1 to 115; 52 emigrant cars, numbered 1 to 77; 51 baggage cars, numbered 1 to 76; all the caboose, smoking, express and milk cars; 1,281 box cars, numbered 1 to 2,884; 1,086 platform cars, numbered 61 to 2,980; 387 cattle cars, numbered 10 to 2,853; 21 six-wheel cars, 13 four-wheel cars, 15 eight-wheel cabooses, 219 locomotives, numbered 1 to 226, which is the rolling stock of the New-York and Erie Railroad Company now in use on said road, branches, connecting roads and the roads leased to said Company, including in each case the numbers above given, and all existing numbers between; also, the steamboats New-Haven and Erie, with their respective engines, boilers, machinery, boats and appurtenances, and barges Samuel Marsh, Henry Suydam, Junior, Dunkirk, Rockland, Canisteo, Chemung, Buffalo, Eastern, Ohio and Splendid, with their respective appurtenances; also, all the passenger cars, box cars, cattle cars, flat cars, baggage and mail cars, second-class passenger cars, dumping cars, grampus cars, and locomotives named in schedule C, attached to a chattel mortgage from the said The New-York and Erie Railroad Company to Daniel Drew, dated June 27, 1857; also, all the benches, lathes, anvils, forges, hammers, planing-machines, tires, axles, wheels, steel, iron, copper, tin-hose, lumber, springs, chairs, frogs, car-castings, babbet metal, spelter, antimony, coal, sand, iron pipe, brass, and engine and other castings, and all the other tools, materials and machinery now in or about the machine shops of the said The New-York and Erie Railroad Company at Piermont, Paterson, Port Jervis, Susquehannah, Elmira, Owego, Hornellsville, Depot, Dunkirk and Newburgh, and the other shops of said Company along the line of said road and the roads leased by said Company; also, all the wood and coal belonging to the said The New-York and Erie Railroad Company, on the 12th day of August, 1859, at the several stations at the ends and along the line of said road and the roads leased to said Company, and along the line of said roads, and in the yard, and about the shops and elsewhere, belonging to said Railroad Company, on the 12th day of August, 1859, in the States of New-York, New-Jersey, Pennsylvania or elsewhere; also, all the ties, chains, spikes, hand-cars, rails, lumber and other implements and materials belonging to the said The New-York and Erie Railroad Company on the 12th day of August, 1859, and now situate along the line of said road and the roads leased to it; also, all the furniture, paper, stationery, wood, coal, timber, printing presses, types and printing materials, telegraphic apparatus, wires and fixtures belonging to said Company on the 12th day of August, 1859, and situate in the said City of New-York, and at the several stations and along the line of said roads; also, all the stock, implements, tools and other goods and chattels whatsoever of the New-York and Erie Railroad Company, or in the possession of the Receiver under the fifth mortgage in the States of New-York, New-Jersey and Pennsylvania.—NEW-YORK, July 13, 1860,

PHILO T. RUGGLES, Referee.

N. B.—As the judgment authorizes a separate sale of property covered only by the fifth and supplemental mortgages, before the sale of the franchises and real estate above mentioned, due notice of such separate sale (if to take place) will be given. The franchises and real estate, and all other property covered by the prior mortgages, as well as by the fifth mortgage, will be sold subject to said mortgages; and inasmuch as said judgment and the act of the Legislature passed in 1860, authorize the extension of the time of payment of the entire issue of bonds secured by the second mortgage, the purchasers, under the final sale above noticed, will take the franchises and property subject to said second mortgage remaining as security for said bonds, as the same may be extended.

ISSUE COMMERCIAL AND TRAVELER'S CREDITS FOR USE IN THIS COUNTRY AND ABROAD.

[OFFICIAL.]
OHIO STATE LOAN—$6,400,000.
OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE SINKING FUND OF THE STATE OF OHIO,
COLUMBUS, 28th August, 1860. }

THE STATE OF OHIO DESIRES TO BORROW THE SUM OF SIX MILLIONS AND FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS, to be applied exclusively to the payment of that portion of the public debt redeemable at its pleasure after the 31st day of December next; and to that end the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund of the State, under authority of an act of its General Assembly, will receive sealed proposals at the Ohio State Agency, No. 25 William-st., New-York City, until 12 o'clock M. of the TWENTIETH DAY OF NOVEMBER NEXT, for the purchase of SIX MILLIONS AND FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS of the Transferable Certificates of the Funded and Registered Debt of the State of Ohio, bearing interest from the 1st day of January, 1861, to be paid semi-annually on the first days of January and July of each year, at the Ohio State Agency in the City of New-York, with the principal reimbur le at the same place; and which, as to the rate pe t. of interest and the time of final redemption, shal accordance with such of the three conditions following as, on the opening of the proposals, the Commissioners may deem to be most advantageous to the State—that is to say:

1. Bearing interest at the rate of FIVE per cent. per annum, and redeemable at the pleasure of the State after the THIRTY-FIRST DAY OF DECEMBER, 1890.
2. Bearing interest at the rate of SIX per cent. per annum, and redeemable at the pleasure of the State after the THIRTY-FIRST DAY OF DECEMBER, 1870.
3. Bearing interest at the rate of SIX per cent. per annum, and redeemable at the pleasure of the State after the THIRTY-FIRST DAY OF DECEMBER, 1880.

Each proposal must state distinctly for which of these classes of certificates it is made, the amount of either which is desired, and the price for each one hundred dollars of each class proposed to be taken, and must be accompanied by a certified check on, or certificate of deposit of one of the banks of New-York City, payable to the order of the Commissioners, for a sum equal to five per cent. of the amount of certificates bid for, which sum shall be forfeited if the bidder shall fail, in case any of the certificates are awarded to him, to pay the residue of his bid at the time hereinafter specified for that purpose. No bid at less than the par value of the certificates, or for an amount less than five thousand dollars, will be considered, and each bid shall be deemed as made either for the whole sum named therein, or for such pro rata amount thereof, as, at the rate specified, may be assignable to the bidder, regard being had to the other proposals.

Interest on the deposit, at the rate for which the certificates are awarded to him, will be allowed to each successful bidder, and adjusted on the delivery of the certificates, and each will be required to pay the residue of the amount bid by him on the 29th day of December, 1860, at the Ohio State Agency, in the City of New-York, at which time and place the certificates awarded will be ready for delivery. Certificates of the Funded Debt of the State of Ohio, redeemable on the 1st day of January, 1861, will be received in payment of any part of the loan hereby contemplated.

The deposits of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them upon application at the Ohio State Agency on the day next subsequent to the opening of the proposals.

The Commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all of the bids if they shall deem it necessary in order to protect or promote the interests of the State.

Proposals for this loan must be inclosed in a sealed envelope, directed to the "Commissioners of the Sinking Fund of the State of Ohio," and indorsed "Proposals for the Ohio Loan."

In order to secure uniformity, and for the convenience of bidders, the Commissioners have prepared a form of proposal, which, together with a copy of the act authorizing the loan, and any information desired in the premises, may be obtained at the Ohio State Agency in New-York City, or at the office of the Commissioners in Columbus, Ohio.

OFFICE OF THE MICHIGAN SOUTHERN AND NORTHERN INDIANA RAILROAD COMPANY, NO. 18 WILLIAM-STREET—NEW-YORK, Sept. 10, 1860.—The holders of the Second General Mortgage Bonds of this Company are hereby notified that the Treasurer will, after the 30th inst., fund all unpaid coupons of said class of Bonds of earlier date than November, 1859, and the 4 coupons of November, 1859, May and November, 1860, and May, 1861, by giving in exchange therefor the Second General Mortgage Bonds of this Company at par. For all coupons offered in full sets the Bonds given in exchange will bear interest as of November, 1860.

The holders of the Plain Unsecured Bonds of this Company are hereby notified that after the 30th inst. the Treasurer will exchange First Mortgage Bonds of the Detroit, Monroe and Toledo Railroad for said Plain Bonds at par. For the coupons now due thereon scrip will be issued convertible in like manner.
HENRY KEEP, Treasurer.

DR. MAGNIN'S LUCINA CORDIAL, OR ELIXIR OF LOVE.—This delightful and positive invigorant of the human system is fast superseding all other remedies; in fact when its virtues become fully known it will be the only remedy in use. Its action on the nervous system and reproductive organs is most extraordinary, allaying all over-excitement, and infusing into the nervous organization that degree of tension which is requisite to give the human system the enjoyment of its full powers, both mentally and physically. As an appetizer it is equally remarkable; assimilated with the gastric juices of the stomach, it assists them in more readily dissolving all nutritious substances, and converting them into pure and wholesome blood; thus the digestion is improved, and the whole framework of man moves on in a more vigorous and harmonious manner thereby. Price $3 per bottle, or two bottles for $5. Principal office No. 203 Fulton-st., New-York.
DR. MAGNIN.

DR. R. COBBETT, MEMBER OF THE New-York University, (Medical College) and College of Surgeons, London, has removed from No. 19 Duane-st. to No. 20 Centre-st., between Chambers and Reade sts., having a private entrance at No. 6 City Hall-place, where he can be consulted with the most honorable confidence on all diseases affecting the urinary organs. Thirty years in successful practice, three of which were at the hospitals of this City, enable him to treat successfully such cases as have baffled the inexperienced, or those not having had such opportunities of acquiring a thorough knowledge of the treatment of diseases. Strictures, impotency, and all kindred affections treated on scientific principles. N. B.—Dr. C. would here remark that he is the only graduate of either of the above institutions practicing in his specialty in this City. His diplomas can be seen in his office. Hours, from 8½ A. M. to 8½ P. M.

DR. COOPER, NO. 14 DUANE-STREET, may be confidentially consulted on all diseases of a private nature. A practice of 29 years devoted to the treatment and cure of Syphilitic, Mercurial, and diseases of delicate nature, enables Dr. C. to make speedy and permanent cures, no matter of how long standing the case may be. Strictures of the Urethra and Seminal weakness, brought on by a secret habit, effectually cured. The victims of misplaced confidence, who have been misled by quack advertisements, can call on Dr. C. with the certainty of being radically cured. N. B.—Dr. C. is a qualified Physician and Surgeon, and a Member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, of New-York. Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

DR. WATSON TREATS ALL FORMS OF a certain class of disease with a success which has won for him the confidence of the public. The remedies are safe, and cause no interruption from business. Dr. WATSON'S work—"The Cause and Cure"—has been pronounced by the reviewers the best popular compendium of all diseases of a private nature, including spermatorrhœa and debility, the results of early abuse, excess and other causes. "Should be read by all persons previous to marriage."—Medical Gazette. Fine colored plates. Price $1. Sold by CHARLES MILLER, No. 436 Broadway, New-York, and by the author at his private residence, No. 459 Broome-st., second block west of Broadway, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

DR. WARD, NO. 483 BROADWAY, PERFORMS the only permanent and satisfactory cure of private diseases. Remember, afflicted, that by consulting Dr. WARD you will immediately experience that Richard's himself again. All other remedies conquered by Dr. WARD'S UNFORTUNATE'S FRIEND. Price, $1, with book. Female diseases successfully treated. His monthly Pills, $1 per box, never fail of effect intended. Try them, ladies, in case of necessity. Office, No. 483 Broadway, adjoining Wallack's Theatre, up stairs. Arranged that patients never meet. Attendance till 10 P. M. Come, send or write.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.—DISEASES OF females exclusively treated by DR. THIERS. Remedies for female derangement from $1 to $5. Relief guaranteed in all cases. Consultation and letters strictly confidential. Patients from a distance provided with board, nursing and exclusive attendance. Advice and medicine per mail. Send stamp for circular, and escape quackery. Office address No. 74 Bleecker-st., (near the corner of Broadway, west side,) New-York.

DR. WARD'S MAGICAL TREATMENT.—Unparalleled success. Patients cured, however long or badly afflicted. Never any failure, which is more than other physicians can affirm. Innumerable cases progress in defiance of all treatment known hitherto, but Dr. WARD, by his wonderful remedies, cures in a very short time, with no trouble to the patient. The disappointed at once congratulate themselves on coming to Dr. WARD'S Office, No. 483 Broadway.

CITY POLITICS.

THE UNION WIDE-AWAKES.

Mass Meeting at Stuyvesant Institute—Speeches of Col. Evans of Baltimore, A. Oakey Hall and C. S. Spencer.

A large assemblage came together at No. 659 Broadway last evening, at the call of the Union Wide-Awakes. Hon. James A. Briggs was called to the chair, and said it gave him great pleasure to introduce a gentleman well known in this State and City, from the South of Mason and Dixon's line, and emphatically a Union man, Col. Evans, of the Baltimore Patriot.

REMARKS OF COL. EVANS.

Col. Evans was received with loud cheers. As their Chairman had said that he was from the State where lived and died Charles Carroll, of Carrolton, it afforded him pleasure to inform this audience that the grandson of that Charles Carroll was with them heart and hand. [Applause.] He was a large planter, lived near Baltimore, owned more than sixty slaves, and there was no more devoted follower of Lincoln than Mr. McTabish, the grandson of Charles Carroll, of Carrolton. [Applause.] Whatever he undertook he looked at in all its bearings. When he had made up his mind, regardless of consequences he pressed forward in behalf of what he deemed right. The alarm had been sounded. The South had been represented as almost a unit in opposition to the nominee of the Chicago Convention. It afforded him pleasure to be able to say that there were thousands in the South who were in favor of the Republican nominees. Many were deterred from expressing their opinions but if Mr. Lincoln was elected the waters would roll over the dam and we should be brothers again. [Applause.] He was a Southerner of the third generation; but he never made any secret in Baltimore of his intention to vote for Lincoln. He should so vote, and thousands there with him. He and his friends expected no dissolution of this Union, and if there was an attempt to oppose Mr. Lincoln's Administration all they asked was that it should be left to the people of the South. They would see that Lincoln had his rights. He and those he acted with were known as members of the Opposition. He was a follower of Henry Winter Davis. [Three cheers for Henry Winter Davis.]

A purer man did not live. Within the coming week Mr. Davis would address his constituency, and when he did he asked them to expect to hear thunder. He would be especially severe with the fusionists. They at the South had examined Mr. Lincoln's record, and felt certain that he was the true National candidate. He could not see how any could assert that he was a sectional candidate. Col. Evans presented a résumé of some of the public acts of Mr. Lincoln, placing them in strong contrast with the conduct of some of the leaders of the present "Union Party,"—Fillmore, Washington Hunt and others. He was a member of the American Party. He did not abate an iota of his attachment thereto. Yet he had examined with care the Chicago platform, and, with some little exceptions, he was pleased with it. On that platform he was ready to stand, and for Lincoln he was ready to vote. [Applause.] Although the snows of age were settling on him, he felt the old fire burning within him, and he believed that he should spend the next six weeks in battling for the Republican ticket with all his strength. [Applause.] Col. Evans alluded to the Pennsylvania frauds in the canvass of 1856, for which the sinews of war had been furnished by the New-York Hotel. [Applause.] The Americans of the South did not feel bound to vote for Mr. Bell, for he was not before the country as the nominee of the American Party. As for Mr. Douglas he had, in 1856, stigmatized the members of the American Party as "perjured villains." For Mr. Breckinridge they could not vote, because he was per se the representative of the present Administration, which, in the city of Washington had tyrannized over them in the local elections. The leaven was spreading in the South. Maryland, Virginia, and Kentucky, would each give them several thousand votes. The Southern descendants of the men who periled their lives for freedom would stand for freedom still. He had received an anonymous letter telling him that unless he ceased to proclaim his attachment for Lincoln he would be compelled to leave Baltimore, and he had told a friend then that on the 6th of November next, live or die, survive or perish, if it was the last act of his life, he would cast an open ballot for Lincoln and Hamlin. [Long continued applause.] Col. Evans told how the Baltimore Patriot had been proscribed because it supported the principles of freedom. He considered the election of the Republican candidates a foregone conclusion. He wanted the men of the North not to be scared with this scare-crow of the dissolution of the Union. They could not drive them (of the South) out of the Union. If the election was carried to the Senate Mr. Lane, of Oregon, would be chosen President. In conclusion, Col. Evans promised that Maryland would do her best for the Republican cause, led by Mr. Davis.

MR. A. OAKEY HALL'S ADDRESS.

After a Wide-Awake song,

A. Oakey Hall, Esq., addressed the meeting. Col. Evans, he said, had told them that since he had come to this City he had first seen a Wide-Awake. He (Mr. Hall) in turn must say that this was the first time that he had met face to face a Baltimore patriot. [Applause.] Mr. Hall in a humorous speech compared Hiram Ketchum to the original Mr. Pickwick and Washington Hunt, James Brooks and Mr. Duer, to his compeers in the modern Pickwick Club. He recalled Mr. Samuel Weller's description of the two kinds of bedsteads, by means of which one might be made wide-awake suddenly or only half-awake. By a similar method, the Republicans, by Mr. Buchanan's administration, had been rendered wide-awake, while the Bell-Everett men were only half-awake. He claimed that the North was wide-awake, acting on the defensive. The contest was "forced," in the words of Mr. Calhoun himself, "upon the North." Mr. Calhoun first, Mr. Douglas next, had taken up the cudgel for the South. Mr. Everett now deprecated agitation, but in 1854 he had said in the United States Senate: "And now I come to the great question of Slavery, the terrible question of Slavery, the only question on which the North and South can be placed in antagonism." Mr. Hall complimented the Republican Party on its organization. Where was the Democratic Party? In the breeches-pocket of Mr. Joshua J. Henry, the popular sovereign of the Democratic Party. [Applause.] Mr. Joshua J. Henry, like the Joshua of old, might make the Democratic sun stand still, but not the Republican sun. [Applause.] In commenting upon the fusion movement, Mr. Hall said that having just come to town he had, coming up Broadway, seen for the first time the Bell and Everett banner near Stuyvesant Institute, and asked a little boy, to assist his eyesight, to tell him what was on the banner. "Oh!" said he, "that's Bell and Everett, but them's come over to us." [Laughter and applause.] In conclusion, he compared the Wide-Awakes to Wellington's Life Guard and Napoleon's Young Guard, and urged them to struggle for the victory.

Mr. C. S. Spencer delivered a stirring address; a letter was read from Ex-Alderman Brisley, expressing his regret at his inability to be present, and the meeting adjourned, with cheers for Lincoln and Hamlin.

Democratic City and County Nominations.

The following are complete lists of the nominations made, Thursday night, by the Conventions of the Tammany Hall and Breckinridge Democracy, respectively:

| | Tammany. | Breckinridge. |
|---|---|---|
| Sup. Court Judge | Geo. G. Barnard. | John R. Brady. |
| Recorder.......... | John T. Hoffman. | Charles A. May. |
| City Judge......... | John C. McCunn. | John R. Livingston |
| Surrogate.......... | Ed. C. West. | Malcolm Campbell. |
| Register.......... | Mat'w.T. Brennan. | Jas. Lynch. |
| Supervisor........ | Smith Ely. | Lafayette Harrison |

Breckinridge Democratic Nominations for the Assembly.

Agreeably to the call of the National Democratic General Committee (Breckinridge), the various Assembly District Conventions met last evening, and made the following nominations:

Districts.
1..Jacob L. Smith.
2..William Walsh.
3..Adjourned to Wednesday evening.
4..Thomas Montgomery and Wm. O'Shea, of the Seventh Ward.
5..Charles Blauvelt, Ninth Ward.
6..Adjourned to Tuesday, 25th.
7..No nomination; adjourned to Tuesday.
8..Adjourned to Tuesday evening, 25th.
9..Chas. H. Inness.
10..No quorum; adjourned.
11..No nomination; adjourned.
12..Dr. James Kiernan.
13..No nomination: adjourned.
14..Edward Murray.
15..George W. Varian.
16..Adjourned to Friday, 28th, 8 P. M.

In the Fourth District the regulars succeeded in nominating Thomas Montgomery, but afterwards the opposition gathered in considerable force and nominated a second man—Wm. O'Shea, of the Ninth Ward. From present appearances two tickets for the Assembly will be run. A similar difficulty occurred in the Eighth District, two sets of delegates appearing from the Thirteenth Ward, one with the signature of S. H. Frees, and the other of Wm. H. Tracey. A Committee on Credentials finally decided in favor of the latter delegation, and the Convention broke up without making a nomination. They will meet again on Tuesday evening.

Wide-Awake General Committee.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE DEMONSTRATION.

The Wide-Awake General Committee of this City met at No. 618 Broadway, last evening, S. B. Dutcher, Esq., President, in the chair. A large number of new delegates, representing four or five German Wide-Awake companies, were present. Mr. Wm. M. Gillespie, from the Committee of Arrangements, reported that from present indications not less than 30,000 Wide-Awakes would take part in the demonstration of Oct. 3. There would be present a club of 300 from Portland, one of 200 from Bangor, and not less than 50 from each of several smaller towns in the State of Maine alone. Full 5,000 would represent Connecticut; 7,000 might be expected from Pennsylvania; 6,000 from New-Jersey; 1,000 from Ohio; 500 from Michigan; 300 from Indiana; 250 from Illinois; 200 from Wisconsin; 50 from Iowa; 50 from Missouri; 25 from Minnesota; 300 from Washington, D. C.; 1,000 from Vermont; 1,000 from New-Hampshire; 4,000 from Massachusetts; 25 from Delaware; 50 from Virginia, and over 20,000 from all parts of New-York. The Committee had received communications from all parts of the United States, suggesting all sorts of devices which would add greatly to the pageant.

The Committee decided to raise the required amount, $20,000, without regard to the State Committee.

Mr. Wilson, Chairman of the New-Haven Wide-Awakes, was present, and assured the Committee that 1,200 Wide-Awakes from New-Haven would be here on Oct. 3. After the transaction of some further business the Committee adjourned.

Meeting of the Republican State Central Committee.

The Republican State Central Committee was in session again, at the Astor House, yesterday. The meeting was secret, and there was nothing done that was made public other than to consider the question of an appropriation for the proposed Wide-Awake demonstration on the 3d of October.

The Lafayette Wide-Awakes.

The French Republican Club of this City, at the last meeting, formed into two companies of Wide-Awakes, to be known as the Lafayette Wide-Awakes. Messrs. Boucher and Tissot were appointed Captains. They meet again to-night to complete their organization, and appoint a place for drill.

Progress of Fusion.

The Committee appointed by the Committee that was appointed by Mr. Joshua J. Henry held a preliminary meeting yesterday at the Assay office. The failure of the Douglas and Breckinridge men to unite on local nominations was talked over and regretted. It was hoped, however, that the failure to unite upon local officers would not operate against a fusion on the State and Presidential tickets. It is expected that the Sub-Committee will report to-day.

NEW-YORK MEDICAL COLLEGE.

The Introductory of Prof. Gardner's Lectures—The Charity Hospital.

Prof. A. K. Gardner delivered the first of a course of lectures on "Diseases of the Breast," at the New-York Medical College, in Thirteenth-street, yesterday. A large audience—his pupils principally—listened to him with many manifestations of interest and approbation.

He, in the first place, indicated how they should come up to the study. There was no part of the practice where it was more requisite to have both the external seeming and the internal reality. It would not suffice to be tender-hearted, if they were rough-fingered and coarse-mannered. He who expected success in treating diseases of women must be a man of sensibility, of fine perceptions, of acute observation, of excellent judgment, of quick decision, and fully educated in the science of this branch at least. After dwelling at length on these points, the Professor proceeded: Thus, gentlemen, you see what you are to strive to become. I do not propose any Jesuitical mode of instruction; you are not to be taught any "cut and dried" theories of disease, with cut and dried prescriptions to match. I shall attempt to show you the disease as it exactly exists, to open to you the arcana of nature, show you the lurking disease, trace the divergent roots to the common stock from which they all spring, and thus teach you to see disease as it has been seen by those who have gone before you in the profession. Next I shall attempt to give you the various methods and means which have been successfully adopted to mitigate or cure these ills, and shall point out the various phases of disease where each in turn may be applicable. But I desire thus early to tell you that I profess to teach no system of specifics. There are many forms of the same disease and each form requires a modification in the treatment. The roads to Philadelphia are numerous, but the choice depends upon various circumstances,—whether haste is requisite, whether fatigue is of importance, whether expense is an item to be thought of. It is certainly not through London, although by traveling Eastward for an indefinite and uncertain time, the traveler will arrive there if he lives long enough. If we could be suspended above the earth for a period, till the earth has rolled round its axis, and then just at the right time set down again we would be following a kind of homœopathic, do-nothing way, letting nature have its course, but falsely claiming the result as locomotion. Bearing this illustrative example in mind, I shall point to you the end to be attained, shall show you by what various means, medicaments, applications and treatments this result is to be attained, leaving you impressed with a general knowledge of the characteristics of disease and the properties and powers of medicines of various characters to apply the latter in suitable proportions for the relief of the former. Thus you will be men and not machines-physicians, not empirics. Thus, finally, when it is urged by the public that doctors differ, that for a given disease each physician has a different remedy, you will have an argument ready and appropriate for this form of statement which you will frequently hear made in the beginning of your career, and even during your pupilage. Tell them who make this remark that Irishmen dig potatoes with a spade and a Yankee uses a hoe, but that both fill their baskets very speedily with the vegetable. Each uses the instrument which he can wield best. With these prefatory remarks the Professor proceeded to consider the subject of the lecture proper—diseases of the female breast.

A great change is manifest in the internal arrangement of the New-York Medical College building. The middle floor, formerly a lecture-room, is completely remodeled; the benches have been removed, the floors are nicely painted, and are now sprinkled over by neat, white-spreaded beds, (the donation we understand, of Thos. C. Doremus, Esq.,) in one of which we noted already present a patient with an obscure but very painful abdominal tumor. Adjoining are the nurse's room and the old materia medica room, now arranged for a pharmacy. There seems to be new life infused into every department. The basement is arranged as a reading-room for students where files of some fifty newspapers are hung around the walls—the gift of Udolpho Wolfe, Esq., one of the Trustees.

The call for this Charity Hospital is from two sides. The necessities of the City demand a central hospital for the care of those suffering from accidents in that vicinity, and we would suggest that various large interests should combine to support beds (at $3 to $4 per week) for their employes—say for the newsboys as one class, for the workmen in large factories, the sewing girls, &c. Then the interests of medical teaching demands that our students should see for themselves the actual patient and learn by personal observation the symptoms of disease, the effects of medicines, and the result of treatment. In no other way can the profession be actually and effectually studied. It is therefore a matter of congratulation that our sick poor will have the benefit of the scientific skill of a corps of professors erudite and skillful in every branch, and that the student will thus find in New-York what elsewhere he cannot obtain in the United States, an opportunity for the ocular as well as auricular study of disease.

The following are the members of the Faculty: R. Ogden Doremus, M. D., Professor of Chemistry, No. 70 Union-place; J. M. Carnochan, M. D., Professor of Clinical and Operative Surgery, No. 45 Lafayette-place; D. Meredith Reese, M. D., LL.D., Professor of the Theory and Practice of Medicine and Medical Jurisprudence, No. 10 Union-square; B. I. Raphael, M. D., Professor of the Principles and Practice of Surgery and Surgical Pathology, No. 124 Ninth-street; A. K. Gardner, M. D., Professor of Clinical Midwifery and Diseases of Females, No. 141 East Thirteenth-street; John O. Bronson, M. D., Professor of Anatomy, No. 79 East Eighteenth-street; Charles A. Budd, M. D., Professor of the Theory and Practice of Midwifery, No. 9 West Eighteenth-street; A. Jacobi, M. D., Professor of Infantile Pathology and Therapeutics, No. 50 Amity-street; Bern. L. Budd, M. D., Professor of Toxicology, No. 9 West Eighteenth-street; R. K. Browne, M. D., Professor of Physiology; M. Bradley, M. D., Adjunct Professor of Anatomy.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

Aid for Garibaldi.—Last evening the opening of Mr. Bergen's new concert and ball-room at No. 97 West Thirty-second-street, took place. The owner very kindly tendered the use of his place to the Garibaldi Aid Committee, to give a festival for the benefit of the Garibaldi Fund. The room was elegantly and tastefully ornamented by means of garlands of green leaves and fresh flowers, and numerous banners, bearing the colors of different nationalities. One of the most prominent was the banner of the Polish emigrants residing here, being of red silk, bearing the white eagle and the motto in their own language, "God and the People." The two ribbons pending from the staff, bore the inscriptions, "Death to all Tyrants," and "Poland is not Lost yet." The festival consisted of a concert, both vocal and instrumental, by Frischman's band and the German Glee Clubs, Social Reform Gesangverein, Loreley Maennerchor and Bloomingdale Frohsinn, and a ball. Speeches by Mr. Gustaphus Struve, the President of the Committee, in German, and Mr. Isaac Dayton, in English, were delivered and well received by the numerous audience. Over the orchestra were several wreaths of oak leaves inclosing the letters G. and M., (Garibaldi and Mazzini,) and "Welcome to the Friends of Liberty." The letters were made of living flowers.

Blondin's Ascension Yesterday.—The announcement that the "Wonderful Blondin" would walk his rope yesterday blindfolded and enveloped in a sack, attracted no less than three thousand people to Jones' Wood yesterday afternoon, to witness possibly a rope-breadth escape, or possibly a fatal catastrophe. After stretching their necks for an hour after the appointed time, looking at the lofty rope, the gazers were at length satisfied with the appearance of the hero of Niagara Falls. Blondin nimbly ascended the mast, took his pole from an attendant, and rapidly walked to the centre. After performing the customary terrific evolutions on the slack rope, swinging, turning, twisting and hanging, he resumed his journey, and reached the opposite pole safely amid loud plaudits. After blindfolding himself and enveloping his head and body in a sack, he commenced his journey back, varying the performance by sundry wriggles, feints at falling, staggering, shaking and pretending to tremble. He descended to the ground by means of one of the mast guys.

Board of Police Commissioners—Resignations, Promotions, &c.—At the meeting of the Board, yesterday, the following business was transacted: The resignations of Capt. Webb, of the Second Ward, and Capt. Gibson, of the Harbor Police, were received and accepted. Sergt. McKelvey, of the Broadway squad, was made Captain, and transferred to the Twentieth. Capt. Curry, of the Twentieth, was transferred to the Fifth. Capt. Hutchins, of the Fifth, was transferred to the Second. David K. Seaman, Patrolman, of the Second, tendered his resignation. Sergt. Todd was placed in command of the Harbor Police. James Blackwell was appointed Coxswain of the Harbor Police. Sergt. Cropsey, of the steamboat squad, was transferred to the Broadway squad. Sergt. Guest, of the Seventeenth, was transferred to the steamboat squad. Roundsman Brower, of the Tenth, was appointed Sergeant, and transferred to the Seventeenth.

Another Weekly—The Household Journal.—When Mr. Buckle comes to write that extremely advanced volume of his work on Civilization which shall relate to America, he will have to place the Weekly Press foremost as the type of our particular phase of enlightenment. Not even in England, where the Saturday newspaper is the inevitable family want, is there the same universal demand for the weekly literary paper as in the United States. Witness the success in other days of the Philadelphia Saturday Press. Witness the actual prosperity of such hebdomadals as the Ledger, the Mercury, and the New-York Weekly, of our own City. To these capital sheets we have now to add a new candidate for general favor in The Household Journal of Information, Amusement and Domestic Economy, a weekly quarto of sixteen pages, exemplary in typography, abounding in fresh and original matter, and what is of especial moment, characterized by the utmost purity and salubrity of tone and taste. The publishers, in offering this budget of wholesome novelty, achieve an additional triumph in presenting it at the low price of $1 50 a year.

A Man Drowned—Dangerous Pier.—An inquest was held yesterday, by Coroner Jackman, upon the body of an unknown man, who accidentally fell into the river at Pier No. 8, Coenties-slip, on Tuesday night last, and was drowned, notwithstanding an effort was made to save him. The dock where the accident occurred crosses South-street at right angles, and persons unacquainted with the locality, who pass by there in the dark, are very likely to fall into the water. The jury rendered a verdict of accidental death, and recommended that the authorities should inclose the dock with a fence.

Found in the Water.—The body of an unknown man was found, yesterday morning, in the water at Pier No. 54 East River. Coroner Schirmer held an inquest upon the remains, and a verdict of death from supposed drowning was rendered. Deceased appeared to be about 40 years of age, and from the fact that his pantaloons were stamped with the word "Workhouse," he is believed to have been an inmate of that institution, who met his death while seeking to escape.

Church Extension.—The Union Chapel congregation (Prof. Mattison's) have secured three lots of ground on Forty-first-street, near Sixth-avenue, and have commenced the erection of a church edifice. It is to be of brick, in the Romanesque style, with lecture-room and class rooms in the rear, on the same level, and the whole to cost about $15,000 exclusive of the site. The main audience-room will be 52 by 57 feet, with end gallery only, and will seat about 800 persons.

Opening of Primary School No. 37.—The Third Ward Primary School, No. 40 Robinson-street, was opened yesterday. There were about one hundred children in attendance. The Trustees and several members of the Board of Education were present. The exercises consisted of singing, declamation, dialogue and recitation. After brief addresses by Messrs. E. C. Benedict and R. S. Gould, the entire company partook of a collation at Gardiner's Hotel.

Serious Vehicle Casualty.—Last evening as Mr. James Carpenter, ex-Captain of Police of the Sixteenth Ward, was driving through Carmine-street in a butcher's cart, his vehicle came in violent contact with a Sixth-avenue car and upset. Mr. Carpenter was thrown heavily to the pavement, and received severe injuries about the head and face. He was picked up and conveyed to his residence, first having his wounds dressed at a drug-store.

Fatal Accident in the Harbor.—The sloop-lighter Suffolk, Capt. Neil Dougherty, of Brooklyn, was capsized yesterday afternoon, while engaged in loading at the Erie Railroad Pier, North River. The accident was caused by the steamer Aurora running foul of her line. Patrick Quigley, of Brooklyn, was drowned, and Capt. Dougherty had a narrow escape from the same fate. The deceased leaves a family.

Fire in Fulton-street.—About 12 o'clock last night a fire was discovered on the upper floor of the building No. 105 Fulton-street. An alarm was promptly given, and the firemen arrived in time to confine the flames to the part of the building in which it originated. The loss to the occupants by fire and water will probably sum up from $1,500 to $2,000, but whether the damage is covered by insurance could not be ascertained. The building was tenanted as follows: First floor by E. Colton as an auction-store; the basement by J. Johnson as a packing office; second floor the New-Yorker office; third floor by Leichtenkost, lithographer; fourth floor, C. Brenneke, picture frame maker; and the fifth story by several parties. The origin of the fire was not ascertained.

Fire in a Row of Stables.—Shortly after 7 o'clock last evening, a fire occurred in the range of stables occupied by Peter McGiven, extending through from No. 203 East Twelfth-street to No. 220 East Thirteenth-street. The loss upon building and stock will not exceed $300; uninsured. How the fire originated did not transpire.

Fire in a Dwelling-House.—The residence of Mr. Donovan, No. 333 Henry-street, took fire last evening, in consequence of a spark from the chimney having lodged in the roof. No material damage resulted.

The Encampment at Bedloe's Island.

Col. Schwarzwaelder, of the Fifth Regiment, has issued the following order:

Head-quarters, Fifth Regiment N. Y. S. M.,
Jefferson Guard,
New-York, Sept. 20, 1860.

REGIMENTAL ORDER NO 8.

This regiment, will parade, fully uniformed, armed and equipped, cloth pants, with knapsacks and overcoats rolled on, on Thursday, the 27th inst., to proceed to Fort Wood, Bedloe's Island, for one week's garrison duty.

Regimental line will be formed on Bond-street, right on Broadway, at 1 o'clock P. M. precisely.

The field music and non-commissioned staff will report to the Adjutant fifteen minutes before formation.

The field and Staff will report to the Colonel, at his quarters, No. 29 Bond-street, at 12½ o'clock precisely.

The Quartermaster's Department will provide the necessary means for transportation of the baggage. All baggage must be delivered to the Quartermaster on Wednesday, at 3 o'clock P. M., at the Division Armory, corner of Elm and White streets. The Quartermaster's Department will be responsible for the safety of all baggage intrusted to its care, but it will not be required to receive any package, unless it is plainly and accurately marked with the letter of the company and the owner's name.

Commandants of companies are required to see that each package of their men's baggage is marked in the described manner and delivered punctually at the Division Armory.

Each soldier will provide himself with his fatigue uniform, and at least two heavy blankets.

By order of Col. CHR. SCHWARZWAELDER.
J. Maidhof, Adjutant.

Burglary in Fourth-street.

$44,000 IN RAILROAD BONDS AND CERTIFICATES OF STOCK STOLEN—ARREST ON SUSPICION.

The dwelling-house of Mr. James Buchan, No. 376 Fourth-street, was visited by burglars on the night of the 11th inst., at which time the occupants were absent in the country, and robbed of a very considerable amount of property. The thieves gained access to the premises by wrenching the shutters from the rear windows of the basement, and then thoroughly ransacked the place. Among the property which they carried away was about $400 worth of clothing, some silver ware, and very nearly $44,000 in bonds and certificates of stock on various railroad and insurance companies. These bonds and certificates were the property of Mr. Adam Pearson, who is now traveling in Europe, and for whom Mr. Buchan is acting as agent. As soon as the robbery was discovered, which happened the day subsequent to its perpetration, printed descriptions of the bonds, &c., were furnished to all the brokers in the City, and the request was made that any person offering to negotiate any of the scrip might be detained. On Wednesday last Mr. Smith Tuttle, a lawyer, doing business at No. 5 Beekman-street, offered to dispose of three of the stolen bonds at the office of a Wall-street broker, but they were at once recognized as corresponding in description to a portion of those which belonged to Mr. Pearson. Accordingly the brokers requested that the scrip might be left with them until the following day, when, should they decide to purchase it in the interval, the money would be handed him when he called. Information of this attempt to sell these bonds was at once given by the brokers to Bank-Detective Hays and Special Officer Flavin, of the First Precinct, who duly awaited next day the appearance of Mr. Tuttle at the broker's office. As soon as he presented himself he was taken into custody, and upon being interrogated as to the manner in which the bonds came into his possession, he replied that he had received them from Julius M. Stich, a client of his, who then could be found at his (Tuttle's) office, in Beekman-street. The officers went there, accompanied by Mr. Tuttle, and found Stich, who was at once arrested. Both prisoners were taken before Justice Welsh at the Tombs, where a partial examination of the matter resulted in the discharge of Mr. Tuttle, who was shown merely to have acted as the agent of Stich, without having any criminal knowledge as to the character of the bonds he had endeavored to sell. Yesterday afternoon, Stich, who had been temporarily committed to prison, was arraigned before Justice Welsh on a charge of having committed the burglary at Mr Buchan's residence, and stolen the bonds and other property. He stated in his examination that he was a broker by occupation, and that he had obtained the three bonds, which he had commissioned Tuttle to sell, from an old gentleman named Isaacs, a perfect stranger to himself, whom he casually met on Wednesday morning at French's Hotel, and who represented that he was from Cincinnati, Ohio. Believing the representations of the old gentleman to be true, he had purchased the bonds, and found himself in difficulty as the consequence. To procure the attendance of other witnesses, the investigation was adjourned to this morning. Meantime Stich is a prisoner in the Tombs, the magistrate having decided not to admit him to bail until the grade of the crime of which he is alleged to be guilty can be determined on. The value of the bonds recovered is $1,500, but no trace of the remaining bonds, certificates of stock, or other proceeds of the burglary, has so far been obtained.

Police Reports.

IMPOSING UPON THE BENEVOLENT.

Frederick W. Hoffman, a middle-aged man, of gentlemanly appearance and address, was apprehended yesterday, by officer Pross, of the Seventeenth Ward, at the instance of Mathew Reicharts, a German, residing at No. 30 Avenue A, who charges him with having swindled him out of fifty cents, under the following circumstances: About two months since, the prisoner called at the complainant's house and represented that he had been authorized to collect funds for the purpose of building a Catholic Church and school-house, somewhere in the State of Pennsylvania. At the same time he exhibited a paper which bore the names of several persons as having subscribed for the purpose in question, and who recommended the project to the favorable consideration of the benevolent. Among the names on this subscription list the complainant observed that of the Rev. Mr. Brookmayer, a Catholic Clergyman residing in Second-avenue, and being well acquainted with that gentleman, he believed the prisoner's representations to be true, and subscribed fifty cents toward building the church, &c. Subsequently he learned that Mr. Brookmayer had never signed any such paper, and in the belief that Hoffman was an imposter, he had him arrested as soon as he could be found. The accused was taken before Justice Brennan, who committed him for examination. In his possession, besides the subscription-list for the Catholic Church, another document was fonnd, showing that he had also been soliciting aid for a Lutheran Congregation. The names of the subscribers are quite numerous, and the sums donated by each person range in amount from 50 cents to $10.

A WEIGHTY ROBBERY.

The bark Louisa Jewett arrived at this port two weeks since from Rio Janeiro, with a cargo of rosewood, iron, and copper, consigned to Joseph Brento & Co., No. 176 Front-street. After the vessel had been nearly unladen the discovery was made that a discrepancy of 60 tons existed between the quantity of iron named in the bill of lading and the amount received, while there was also a deficiency of one and a half tons in the copper. Suspicion attached to Peter Welsh, the mate of the vessel, as the person who had disposed of the missing metal, and yesterday afternoon he was arrested by Officer Nevins, of the Second Precinct. The prisoner had been seen to take iron and copper ashore on several occasions while the vessel was being discharged, and after his arrest he admitted to the officer that he had stolen about $23 worth of the copper. He was therefore taken before Justice Welsh, who committed him for trial. The value of the missing metal is said to be $800, but how material of so heavy a character could be removed in large quantities without resulting in the detection of the thief, is very singular. Officer Nevins is engaged in a search of the City junk-shops, where he hopes to find the remainder of the stolen property.

STREET ENCOUNTER AND STABBING AFFRAY.

Between 8 and 9 o'clock last evening, a young man named Edward Pindar, who is employed as bar-keeper in a saloon at the corner of Jay and West streets, while passing through Franklin-street near Washington, was accosted by James Taylor, a man with whom he was not on very friendly terms, and an altercation resulted upon the subject which had caused the feelings of animosity that existed between them. The more the matter was debated its chances for a peaceful settlement seemed to decrease, finally Taylor drew a knife and stabbed his opponent in the left side, inflicting a serious wound. The assailant immediately fled, and the Police having been summoned by the witnesses of the affray, had the wounded man removed to his residence, No. 124 Houston-street, where he was placed under a physician's care. A few hours afterwards Officer Van Tassel, of the Fifth Ward, was successful in his search for Taylor, and having secured him, he was locked up for examination today.

THEFT OF A DIAMOND RING.

Mr. Robert Harriott, residing at No. 715 Greenwich-street, yesterday caused the arrest of Philip Harris, a colored man, employed as a waiter on board the steamboat Commonwealth, of the Stonington line, on a charge of having stolen from him a diamond ring, valued at $300. Mr. Harriott was a passenger on the steamboat on Tuesday last, during her trip to this City, and he carelessly left his ring on the washstand in his stateroom, during his temporary absence from the apartment. When he returned to look for his property it was gone, and the prisoner in the interval having entered the stateroom, was suspected of being the thief. Justice Welsh committed him for examination.

A HEAVY-FOOTED THIEF.

A piece of black cloth, valued at $80, belonging to Adolph Lipman, and just landed from the ship Teutonia, was stolen from the pier yesterday by William Roberts, an Englishman, who attempted to run away with his booty. He was detected in his dishonesty by Mr. Charles Hebech, of No. 45 Exchange-place, who had the property in charge, and that gentleman found it quite an easy matter to pursue and overtake the thief, whose fastest gait assimilated more to that of the tortoise than the hare, notwithstanding that in his flight he had discarded his burden. Having been arrested he was taken before Justice Welsh who committed him for trial.

DEALERS IN LOTTERY POLICIES.

A man named George Wheeler yesterday caused the arrest of Robert Spencer and Charles Nicholson, whom he charged with being the keepers of lottery-policy shops, at No. 96 Vesey-street and No. 81 Nassau-street. The complainant also stated that on Tuesday last, he paid Nicholson $28 for a ticket in a lottery to be drawn in the State of Delaware. The accused were brought before Justice Welsh, who required them to furnish bail to answer in the sum of $200 each.

A CHARGE OF ARSON DISMISSED.

Robert E. Burns, a daguerreotypist, doing business at No. 365 Eighth-avenue, was arrested in the latter part of July on a charge of having set fire to his gallery. The matter has been made the subject of a thorough examination before Justice Connolly, who yesterday dismissed the complaint, as the evidence against the accused was not deemed strong enough to warrant his committal for trial.

Garibaldi's Fund.

TO THE ARTISTS IN AMERICA.

Several artists, native and foreign, having kindly offered to contribute a sketch, a drawing, or a painting to the fund which the Italian Committee of New-York is engaged in raising to aid Garibaldi's noble efforts for Italian freedom and independence, the cooperation of all the artists of New-York and other cities is respectfully solicited.

The Committee trusts that the era of liberty and progress, so auspiciously commenced in Italy, will awaken the sympathy of every votary of art for the land which enshrines so many of her greatest trophies and is consecrated by the fame of immortal masters.

When a sufficient number of contributions shall be added, to those already obtained, the Committee intend to dispose of them for the benefit of the Italian cause, and to remit the proceeds to Gen. Garibaldi as the donation of artists in America.

Those who see fit to accept this invitation, will oblige the Committee by sending their contributions before the 15th of October next, to the Crayon-Art Gallery of G. W. Nichols, No. 756 Broadway, corner of Eighth-street, New-York, where they will be placed for public exhibition.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

Republican City Convention.—The Republican City Convention assembled last evening, in the hall at No. 9 Court-street, and made the following nominations:

For City Judge—George G. Reynolds.
For Police Justice—Chauncey M. Perry.
For Justice of the Peace, First District—William M. Boerum.
For Justice of the Peace, Second District—John Quincy Adams.

A Committee of three was appointed to notify the candidates of their nomination, and the Convention adjourned.

Trial of a Steam Fire-Engine.—A new steam fire-engine in charge of Engine Company No. 17, Wm. Burrell, Foreman, was tried in City Hall Park yesterday afternoon. The entire machine weighs 4,500 pounds. Four minutes after the fire was kindled under the boiler, sufficient steam was generated to force the water through the pipes. On the first trial two streams were forced through one-inch nozzles up to the roof of the City Hall, and on the second trial a stream through 1¼-inch nozzle was thrown nearly to the feet of the figure of Justice. The trial was considered satisfactory.

Horticultural Society.—The Fall exhibition of the Brooklyn Horticultural Society was closed last evening. The hall in which the exhibition was held was crowded to excess during the day and evening. Just before the close last evening, Rev. Mr. Milburn was introduced and made a few remarks appropriate to the occasion, and the President announced that the next exhibition of the Society would be held in the Brooklyn Academy of Music.

Prospect Park.—The Prospect Park Commissioners held a meeting last evening at the residence of J. S. T. Stranahan, Esq., on Main-street, but no business of public interest was transacted.

Hudson River Items.

An Insane Woman Roasted Alive.—On Thursday afternoon an insane woman, named Elizabeth A. Brush, was burned to death in one of the shanties in which the poor of the County of Sullivan are kept. A person who was passing was attracted to the building by screams and groans, and on entering found it enveloped in smoke and flames, and the wretched woman literally roasting alive. Her clothing was nearly burned from her body. How the fire originated is not known, as there was no fire in the room which she occupied. The fire was extinguished as speedily as possible, but the unfortunate creature expired in a few hours in great agony. She was a daughter of the late James Brooks, of Monticello, Sullivan County, and was supported by her relatives.

Horse Thieves on the Hudson—Two Valuable Horses Stolen.—A very valuable bay horse, together with buggy and harness, belonging to Judge Vanderpool, of Saugerties, were stolen from his stable a few nights since. A reward of $100 has been offered by the Judge for the recovery of the property, but at last accounts neither thief nor horse had been found. Mr. John H. Messick, of Chatham Four Corners, Columbia County, also recently had a valuable horse, with buggy and harness stolen from his stable. The horse was traced by its footprints to within a short distance of Albany, when they were lost.

The Recent Storm on the Hudson.—From Wednesday night at 7 o'clock to 6 o'clock yesterday morning rain fell in large quantities on the line of the Hudson River, and it was feared that great damage would be done, but it is thought now that beyond the injury to the potato, oat and rye crops, but little damage will be done. Yesterday the weather was mild and fair. The Merchants' and People's Line of steamboats, as well as the way boats, made their trips on Wednesday and Thursday nights with safety. There was no fog on the river last evening.

Twenty Thousand Dollars' Worth of Promissory Notes Missing.—A package of promissory notes, to the amount of $20,000, was recently mailed from the Tanners' Bank, at Catskill, Greene County, to the Union Bank, New-York, which have never been received. A search was instituted, when it was found that the package contained forty-three other letters from Catskill, none of which have been received. It is supposed to have been carried through by mistake to some distant office.

Fatal Railroad Accident.—On Thursday morning the mutilated remains of a man were found near Seneca station, upon the railroad track. The skull was divided, one of the arms severed, and the upper portion of the body terribly mangled. It was at once recognized as that of John Donolly. A jug was found near him, and it is supposed that the man drank to intoxication, and fell asleep on the railroad track, when the 3 o'clock train came along, and mangled him as described above.

Serious Accident to the Armenia.—While the steamer Armenia was making an up trip one morning this week, she broke her shaft. She was towed to this City for repairs. The Isaac P. Smith has taken her place until the Armenia can be repaired, when she will once more resume her place as a day-boat between this City and Albany.

OUT-OF-DOOR SPORTS.

American Cricket Club, L. I.

A new organization, under the above title, was put into active operation on Thursday evening, at Montague Hall, Brooklyn, by the election of the following officers: Mr. Thos. S. Dakin, President; Mr. Thos. Walden, Jr., Vice-President; Mr. Jas. B. Bache, Secretary; Mr. McElvain, Treasurer; and Messrs. John Whitney, H. Parker and Theo. F. Jackson as Directors. Nearly thirty members have joined. The rules will give every one an equal chance to learn the game, and protects the weak against the strong. It also squelches the system of employing cricket revolvers and professionals to play in matches for the purpose of winning them, while the regular members, who provide the funds, have to stand by and hurrah.

Base Ball.

EXCELSIOR CLUB OF SOUTH BROOKLYN VS. THE BASE BALL PLAYERS OF BALTIMORE.

The Excelsior Club left New-York last night to play a match at Baltimore this afternoon. On Monday, the Excelsiors will play a match against "All Philadelphia."

Kentucky Races.

Lexington, Friday, Sept. 21.

Judge Hunter's Sherrod, by Lecompte, won the two-mile produce stakes to-day. Time, 3:45¼, 3:40¾, 3:38¾.
